NEWS SUMMARY.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Preparations are being made for an immense mass meeting of the Radicals at Frederick, Md., next Saturday, to protest to Congress against the present Constitution of the State being continued in force, on account of its anti-republicanism, and oppressing Union men, white and black.

A disastrous boiler explosion took place Saturday afternoon, resulting in the complete demolition of Cole's Pianoforte factory, situated on Union Hill, New Jersey. Two men, one unknown, the other named Chas. Hauscher, were killed, and two others badly scalded.

A fire in Wallingford, Connecticut, Sunday, destroyed the Episcopal Church, Town Hall and Keeler's stove store. Loss about $30,000; insurance about $11,000.

A hand-bill offering twenty-five thousand dollars for the assassination of Hunnicutt, Underwood & Co., gotten up, it is believed, by Radicals, was found on the streets of Richmond the other morning.

The annual report of Secretary M'Culloch for the fiscal year ending June 30th, is almost finished, and will it is said, be sent to the President on the 1st of November. It was stated that as soon as the annual report of the Secretary is in the hands of the President, the strong forces arrayed in opposition to Mr. M'Culloch have determined to make a pull altogether in the work of procuring a change in that department.

The Congressional Committee on Elections in their investigations of charges of disloyalty against the Kentucky members, have returned to Washington. The chief evidence is against Messrs. Grover and Trimble, and it is understood that some pretty strong points have been made against them. As to the other districts, except the Eighth, which Mr. McKee is contesting, there was not much testimony taken.

Hon. Jos. A. Pond, late President of the Massachusetts State Senate, died yesterday afternoon.

The Baldwin House in Ogdensburg, N. Y., was destroyed by fire yesterday. Loss $15,000; partially insured.

A salute was fired at Portsmouth, N. H., yesterday, as Gen. Sheridan was passing through the city.

The revenue assessor at Memphis has decided that shippers must pay the tax on cotton, instead of sellers, as heretofore. This caused a stagnation in the cotton market.

The Memphis races have been postponed on account of the fever.

An attempt was made to throw the northern express train from the track of the Concord Railroad at Thornton's Ferry, on Saturday, by inserting a piece of iron in the "frog" at the switch. It was discovered in time to prevent any damage.

J. C. Adams, a mail agent on the Boston and Portland Railroad, was attacked by a ruffian in Saco, Me., Sunday night, who first attempted to shoot him, and failing in that, beat him over the head with the pistol. The cause of the act is unknown.

There were twelve deaths from yellow fever in Mobile during Sunday and Monday. The weather was cloudy and cold.

Dispatches from all parts of the country report heavy rain storms yesterday, accompanied by high winds. The wharves opposite Wilmington, N. C., were submerged, but no serious damage is reported.

Weston, the pedestrian, starts from Portland to-day on his walk to Chicago.

Application will be made to the Legislature of Ontario to enlarge the charter of the Erie and Ontario Railroad, allowing that company to build a line to Detroit river.

The run on the Toronto banks, which has been going on for several days past, has about ceased.

NEWS BY MAILS.

In Montreal they are talking of establishing a standard of the English language for the new Dominion, or rather of making a new language, since it is claimed that Canadian is not simply an English dialect. They are determined not to permit so many "American vulgarisms." This is the substance of a paper read before the Montreal Literary Club last week.

The Courant was the title of the first daily newspaper printed in the English language, the first number of which appeared in London, the 11th of March, 1702. It was a little half sheet, printed on one side only, and consisting of one page of two columns. It continued until 1735, maintaining the foremost place among the many imitations which speedily sprang into existence.

Nothing pays better in London than the underground railway, yet an important extension of that work through Kensington, Brompton, Belgravia and Pimlico languishes half completed for want of money. The bankruptcy of Sir Morton Peto is a scarecrow to railway enterprise. One claim against his firm amounts to $80,000,000. That is what may be called a sublime failure—but its magnitude does not make people more anxious to buy stock in railways.

The rose fields of Adrianople include twelve or fourteen thousand acres of land. The value of the ottar of roses made in 1866 was not far from £100,000. The oil is much adulterated before it reaches London, where it sells more readily than if pure.

The proprietors of a hop garden in England, in which a child was murdered in a most barbarous, hence most interesting way, lately, have been forced to pluck the hops when only half ripe, on account of the quantities carried away by visitors as mementoes of the crime.

Paris, that shrine of fashion and of female beauty, is to show up its lovely women and to show its appreciation of them by giving 6,000,000 francs worth of a pair of ear rings to the loveliest specimen of loveliness on the occasion of the closing of the Exposition in November.

The Cincinnati Enquirer publishes the school census of the children of that city, by which it appears there are in seventeen of the nineteen districts, 95,645 children between the ages of five and twenty-one years. Estimating the two districts not yet returned, at the average of the others, the whole number reaches 106,000. If to these be added a proportionate number for those under five years, the grand total of minors will be 127,000. From these figures it will be seen that three-fifths of the population of Cincinnati are minors.

Lieutenant Governor and General Stisted, of Ontario, one of the States of the new Dominion of Canada, addressed the Twenty-ninth Canadian Regiment, at Hamilton, a few days since, and advised the men to keep from whisky drinking, as "the whisky in this country is not the best in the world, and will do more injury than even the arrack of India."

A correspondent of the Geauga (Ohio) Democrat says that cows, which last spring, brought $50 to $75 are now selling, on account of the drought for $25. The cheese factories will soon have to suspend operations for want of milk.

The following notice is posted in two places in New Hartford: "I here depose and say, that I, Judge Lyman of Lawful age did hear Martin Wilcox tell his Boys to Stone my Rooster on his Grounds, and they Stoned the Noble Bird like Stephen of Old Times. Even unto Death and he lies in my Compost heap. Somebody must pay the damage."

About two years ago a man named Robison had $12,000 stolen from him at St. Louis, the money being accidentally left in a water closet. A search for the thieves has just resulted in the arrest of two persons in Chicago. The money was all gone, but property bought with it will nearly cover the amount lost.

The Liberal Christian Union, of Chicago, held a meeting Sunday evening at the Opera House, which was attended by four thousand persons. This organization is running in opposition to the Young Men's Christian Association, which is Evangelical in its composition.

Norman Loughlin, pilot of the Fanny Scott, together with the engineer and watchman of the same steamer, have been arrested in St. Louis for inhumanly beating a negro, who is not expected to live.

There will be thirty-nine Republicans and eight Democrats in the next Iowa Senate; and seventy-seven Republicans, seventeen Democrats, and seven Independents, in the House. Ninety-five counties gave a Republican majority of 27,353.

On Friday Mr. Samuel Helsby, of the Cleveland, O., police force, with his only child—a daughter—attended the funeral of his wife. On the following morning the daughter was found dead in her bed. The daughter had been suffering from a lung disease for some time, and it was believed she would eventually be overcome by it, but her sudden death was not anticipated.

A report is current among General Kilpatrick's friends that he will shortly return to enter the lists for Senatorship, for New Jersey, in place of Frelinghuysen, whose term expires in 1869.

FLORENCE, October 27, Evening.—General Garibaldi has crossed the Roman frontier, and is now at the head of four thousand men.

TOULON, October 27, Afternoon.—The French fleet of iron-clads, destined for service in Roman waters, left this port under an Imperial order at six o'clock this morning. The troops, which were designed to operate in the defense of the Holy See on the occasion of the first Garibaldian alarm, and which have been encamped near the town since, are again in motion, and are to embark and sail for Papal territory immediately. The authorities here are engaged in shipping war material on board of transport vessels with great activity.

LONDON, Saturday, Midnight.—The following dispatches were received to-night:

PARIS, Saturday night.—The fleet of war steamers left Toulon this morning under orders to proceed direct to Civita Vecchia. The embarkation of troops on board transports at Toulon is completed, and a dispatch announcing their departure for Italy is momentarily expected.

FLORENCE, October 26, Evening.—The soldiers of King Victor Emanuel refuse to fight against Garibaldi. The cause of national unity in the court of the King's Government is gaining ground. It is now considered certain a thoroughly radical ministry will be formed, whose policy will be devoted to making Rome the capital of Italy.

Letter from the Pope.

ROME, October 26.—The Pope, in a letter to the Bishops, says the patrimony of the church is attacked by revolutionists, and asks them to order prayers for the Holy See.

OHIO NEWS.

Groveport, in Franklin county, was once burdened with two names—Racey's Port and Wirt's Grove. The inhabitants could not settle the matter and finally the Legislature took it in hand and gave the town the name of Groveport, a combination of a portion of the two former names.

The students of the O. W. University, by a vote of four hundred to twenty-five, refused to display the National flag from the College building on the occasion of the Vallandigham meeting in Delaware a few days ago.

The daughters of the late Edgar B. Pearce, editor of the Washington, Fayette county, Register, are heirs-at-law of the estate of the celebrated Jenks, who died worth several millions of dollars. It is said the children of Mr. Pearce will receive about fifty thousand dollars each.

The Warren Chronicle says: One night last week a colored man living on the west side of the river, got into a quarrel with his wife. In the fight she fired a pistol at him, the ball entering his forehead, and passing around the skull some distance. He came to town to see a physician, being very anxious to know if he "was killed." Being assured that he still lived, he went away in better spirits.

The apple crop has been almost a total failure in some parts of the Western Reserve. The Chronicle says apples are being brought to Trumbull county from Indiana and Michigan.

On the 30th inst., Charles Higgins and Thos. Dire, of Coal Run, Washington county, got into a political discussion, and from words resorted to blows. Higgins made the attack upon Dire with a butcher knife, the latter being armed with a base ball bat, with which he struck Higgins on the head. Higgins fell senseless to the ground, and in a short time died from the effect of the blow. Dire has but one arm, having lost the other one in the army. He was arrested and held to bail.

The St. Louis Republican of a late date says: The Chief of Police received a dispatch some days ago, from Steubenville, Ohio, requesting him to arrest Samuel Ranison, who eloped from that city with a young girl, he being a married man. The couple came to this city on Saturday last, and in a little time the officers succeeded in finding them in a house on Second street, near Cass avenue, and the man was placed under arrest. Subsequently, his wife arrived here, and an interview took place between the parties. Matters, however, did not assume a very threatening aspect. The first wife seems to have been easily mollified, and not desirous of a prosecution, and the man was released from custody, and when last heard of he and the two women were residing peacefully in the same house.

FROM ALABAMA.

The Sickly Season--The Cotton and Corn Crops--Why Southerners Do Not Prosper--The Reconstruction Convention--Intelligence of the Freedmen--The Northern Elections--Bankruptcy--Navigation and Trade.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

FLORENCE, ALA., October 21, 1867.

The intelligent reader of the papers is already aware that October and the two preceding months have proved unusually sickly throughout the Southern States. The large Southern cities have nearly all been severely scourged with that most dreaded of all diseases, the yellow fever, while in the rural districts chills, and bilious and intermittent fevers of malignant type have prevailed to an alarming extent. Various reasons have been advanced by physicians for the vast amount of sickness of the present season, but most people are of the opinion that it has been caused by the heavy and continued rains of the last spring and summer. Now that the weather has become much cooler, and slight frosts have begun to make their appearance, the general health of this section seems to be improving. As a general thing new comers to North Alabama are very likely to be attacked by some one of the malarious fevers peculiar to this climate. To those who intend emigrating to this section I would say, lay in a good stock of quinine and calomel, for those are the only sovereign remedies for human ailments known in these parts.

THE CROPS.

There has been, this year, throughout the South, an abundant yield of corn, and, for the coming year, there will be no want of bread. The yield of cotton has not met the anticipations of planters, though perhaps all of the Gulf States will average half a crop. The "army worm" has proved very desructive to cotton the present season, and complaints of its ravages are long and loud among the farmers. In some instances whole fields of cotton, that promised well, have been almost entirely ruined by this industrious little depredator. But the short crop is not all the cotton raiser has to grieve over, this fall. A variety of causes have reduced the price of cotton to but very little more than one half what it was this time last year. To give figures; cotton sold in this market one year ago at 20c to 24c per pound, while at this time buyers are timidly offering 11c to 14c per pound. When we consider the fact that, from the high rates which planters have to pay for their supplies of provisions, it has this year cost 20c per pound to raise cotton, we can easily imagine why planters are in no amiable mood, and we can perhaps excuse them for charging it all to "Radical doings." Their losses will be heavy, and with the present shattered state of finances, will be borne with difficulty. A few of the shrewder Southern farmers, have, during the past year, given their principal attention to the cereals, and they have been well rewarded. Some have been successful enough to raise "bread and meat" sufficient to do them for a year to come, but such are to be considered among the highly favored. I am more and more surprised to see the reluctance with which Southern planters settle down and adapt themselves to the free labor system, there being an apparent desire on their part to preserve as much of the old system as they can possibly incorporate in the new; and many of them, encouraged by the course of the Johnson-Copperheads, no doubt cling to the hope that even the slave-whip and thumb-screw will one day be restored to them. I give it as my opinion that, in this insane conduct of the Southern people, may be found the true reason why prosperity so slowly returns to the now desolate South. They are yielding just as many of their former principles and habits as they are forced to yield; they are evidently "waiting for something to turn up," and that "something" they believe will be the success of the rebel-conservative party, the entire overthrow of the Congressional plan of reconstruction, and the placing of the "nigger where he ought to be." Heedless of the fact that foreign countries are seriously entering into competition with her in the production of the great staple, the South stands still, mourning over the loss of her "ebony idol," and putting forth no honest, hearty efforts to build up a prosperity founded upon justice and equity. There was a time, and that, too, since the war, when Southern men, whipped, cowering and trembling for their lives, professed to anticipate a speedy return to peace and plenty under the new order of things. But a change has come over them, a change especially marked since the Ohio and Pennsylvania elections, and now they "don't know when this thing is going to be settled."

THE CONVENTION.

The election of delegates to the convention to be called under the reconstruction law has been held in this State, and the result is generally known. It was decided, by a majority of about 10,000, that a convention to frame a new constitution should be held. In some counties nearly the whole registered vote was polled, while in others more than half of the registered voters (mostly whites) staid away from the polls, showing an evident determination to defeat the holding of a convention, if possible. In this county there were registered about two thousand four hundred voters; during the three days of election there were polled about one thousand votes, of which eight hundred were those of colored men. In this community there was seemingly the utmost indifference on the part of the whites in regard to the election. But this outward show of indifference was a mere sham. The fact that every white man registered who could register, and that some of the most rabid "conservatives" talked of contesting at law their right to register, all proves that they were interested in the election, and that the real design was to defeat the holding of a convention. In this State there were registered one hundred and sixty thousand voters and there were polled at the recent election ninety thousand votes.

Well, we have had an election in Alabama, at which negroes, and—let no one misunderstand—I mean black men, actually voted. And, strange as it may appear to some, the sun still continues to give light and heat, the stars still continue to shine, and the clouds look as though—at the bidding of their maker—they would still continue to dispense rain upon the earth. Everything seems to be going about as usual, there have been no new cases of severe "miscegenation," and it is still optional with Democratic old maids "to take white husbands or none." In short, the election we have just had here was one of the most peaceable and orderly I ever saw anywhere, not excepting those I have seen in our most sober Northern communities. The freedmen, with a dignity and decorum which were not only surprising but very remarkable, would go quietly to the polls, deposit their votes, and then return to their homes or to their work. The elections, for obvious reasons, were held at the various county towns, and, in many instances, black men walked fifteen or twenty miles in order to vote. There was not a drunken man to be seen, not a fight occurred during the three election days, and there was not a single arrest for disorderly conduct. Another fact worthy of notice is, that they all voted the right ticket; I did not hear of a single mistake in voting made by a freedman. I am perfectly convinced that, ignorant as they are, they will never vote away their own freedom. It may be forcibly taken from them, and I doubt whether that would not be a dangerous undertaking. Yes, I think I may speak positively upon that subject; the day that re-enslavement of the black people is attempted will prove one of the bloodiest ever known. Nine out of ten would prefer death rather than return to bondage.

THE NORTHERN ELECTIONS.

All "Dixie" is one broad grin over the results of the recent elections in Ohio and Pennsylvania. The recent Democratic victory in those States is regarded as the "Bull Run" of the second rebellion, headed by A. Johnson & Co. It seems to be the fate of these infatuated people to be tempted into indiscreet exhibitions of their rebellious feelings, in order that they may the more keenly feel the power of the government they have so outrageously assailed. There is but one construction placed upon the Democratic successes, by the people of the South; to the latter they mean war upon Congress, indorsement of the President's policy, and the real or prospective overthrow of the Congressional plan of reconstruction. There is universal rejoicing, and Southern newspapers have much the same tone as when, in Confederate times, they received news of a victory in the field. I copy the following from the Memphis Bulletin, which perhaps is the leading journal in the south-west, and which, I think, is a fair exponent of the sentiments of the whites throughout this section. This paper has, until very recently, been edited by the notorious Raphael Semmes, ex-Captain of the pirate Alabama:

> Much has been said by the Radicals about the voice of the people, the will of the people, the decrees of the people. We hope they will not be unmindful of the fact that THE PEOPLE have spoken in the late elections for the Union and Peace—for the Constitution and the Enforcement of the Laws. Among other things here is what THE PEOPLE have declared in favor of:
>
> That the failure to restore the Union after the close of the war, and to perpetuate the blessings of civil liberty is one not to be forgiven.
>
> That the attempt to hand over the dismantled Southern States to the blacks does not meet their approval.
>
> That the Congressional scheme of robbing the States of the constitutional right to regulate the question of suffrage and of declaring the negro the political equal of the white man must be abandoned.
>
> That the arbitrary exclusion of representatives in Congress from States like Kentucky is condemned.
>
> That the threatened impeachment of a President because he will not be the tool of a faction, instead of the executive of a Constitutional Government, is a measure not to be tolerated.
>
> That the military governments are a blot on the Republic, and that in their place should stand forth the ten equal States known to the Constitution.

This same paper, in a recent article since the Northern elections, boldly declared that the negroes in the South had "cast their last vote." It is confidently asserted that the President will not only forcibly resist impeachment, should that be attempted, but that he will not stand much other "dem-phoolishness" of Congress. It is believed that he will in certain contingencies call to his aid an armed force of his Northern adherents, and there are here sotto voce declarations that if they are not sufficient to sustain him and his plan, we "Southern Conservatives" will help. To even the casual observer it is very apparent that the present state of feeling South indicates anything but a willing desire to abide by the results of the war and to accept as a finality the plan of reconstruction laid down by Congress. The belief that the Southern States will regain their former status by an easier mode grows stronger with every sign, however faint, of a "reaction" in the North. The Union men South, of course, are despondent, and the freedmen generally look as though they had heard something "drap." The latter, however, have the consolation that, let elections go as they may, their condition cannot possibly become worse than it has been.

BANKRUPTCY.

The practical operation of the Bankrupt law is bringing to light the fact that we have in the South a vast number of "broken" merchants and planters. Those whom we had not suspected of insolvency, are coming out and acknowledging under the forms prescribed by the law, that they owe "little balances" which they cannot possibly settle at this time. There seems to be an apprehension that this law will be repealed or modified during the next session of Congress, and many are hastening to avail themselves of its provisions.

NAVIGATION AND TRADE.

The Western and Southwestern rivers are at a very low stage, and commerce suffers in consequence. Low waters and epidemic sickness at the various points on the rivers, have produced almost complete stagnation in business. It is a fact worthy of notice that the South is much more dependent upon her river communications than the North. This, of course, is owing to her want of more railroads and the imperfection of the railway systems which she now has. The merchants of many of the river towns in the interior of Alabama and Georgia, are as a general thing almost entirely without goods during the low water season. Again, there is an indisposition on the part of Southern merchants to use railroad transportation, even when they cannot possibly have freight shipped by water. For instance, the merchants of Florence will, in most cases, wait several months for the Tennessee river to rise, before ordering goods from Cincinnati or Louisville, for the reason that river transportation is cheaper. To a Northern man this seems a poor and slow way of doing business, and indicates want of enterprise. During the past three or four months many of our merchants here have been out of the commonest articles of family use, such as meat, flour, meal, coffee and sugar. Anything like luxuries have been out of the question. The cost of living South is more than double what it is North. The necessaries of life are held at starvation rates, and it is a mystery to me how the very poor manage to keep soul and body together.

We have had no rain worth mentioning for three months, and everything is about parched up. This has been a very favorable fall for "getting out" the crops; still we anxiously look for rain. Some gouty old rebel prophesied that it would rain here on the day of election, when a cloud of 800 black Radicals came from the "four corners" of the district to vote; but he missed it. The weather on that day and since has proven as dry as his joke.

There is considerable of a "scare" over the yellow fever in Memphis. Most of those who are able have left the city. With general scarcity, high price of living, and pestilence, I think I may say that, at present, there are "hard times in Dixie." VENI VIDI.

FROM BELLEVERNON, PA.

Bellevernon---- Business Items----Surrounding Country---Dedication of the Chapel of the New M. E. Church---Services of Revs. I. C. Pershing and A. J. Enderly---Noble Contribution by the Congregation.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

BELLEVERNON, October 28, 1867.

Bellevernon, as most of your readers are aware, is a small town, located on the right bank of the Monongahela river, forty-two miles above the city of Pittsburgh. It has a population of about one thousand. Like most of the towns along the Monongahela it is principally noted for the manufacture of glass, the extensive works of Mr. R. C. Schmertz being located at this point. Sand for the manufacture of glass is found in considerable quantities in the vicinity—enough to supply home demand, and for shipment to your city. There is also a boat yard at this place and a steam planing mill. The country back of Bellevernon is highly cultivated, and among the best farming districts in the western part of the State.

Yesterday was a time of unusual interest in our usually quiet town, it being the day set apart for the dedication of the chapel of the new M. E. Church. Early last spring the congregation, realizing the necessity of a larger and more commodious house of worship, secured an eligible lot on Main street, at a cost of four hundred and fifty dollars. Many doubted the propriety of the undertaking, owing to the pecuniary inability of the congregation. Nothing daunted, however, the earnest and energetic pastor, Rev. C. H. Edwards, nobly seconded by the official members of the charge, addressed himself to the work, and gave out the contract for the building. The entire length is seventy feet by forty two in width. The main audience room will be forty by fifty-eight feet, exclusive of the gallery over the vestibule. The lecture room is thirty-nine by forty-four feet, with two good class rooms at the entrance. The general style of architecture is designed to be Gothic. A well proportioned tower rises twenty-three feet above the roof, and is surmounted with a fine spire fifty-two feet in height, making a total of one hundred and thirty-seven feet from the ground to the top of the spire. The general effect is grand and imposing. The brick work was done by Messrs. Meredith, of Monongahela City, and the wood work by Mr. J. R. Powell, of California. These gentlemen filled their engagements to the entire satisfaction of the congregation. The church, as far as completed, is a most substantial and beautiful edifice. The whole cost will be twelve thousand dollars. The cost thus far has been eight thousand seven hundred. Four thousand three hundred and twenty dollars had been paid in previous to the dedication, and one thousand and thirty dollars available means remained on subscription. The amount needed to meet all indebtedness was three thousand two hundred and eighty-eight dollars.

The opening sermon was preached by Rev. I. C. Pershing, President of the Pittsburgh Female College, to a large and attentive audience. In the afternoon a deeply interesting sacramental service was held. In the evening, Rev. A. J. Endsley, Presiding Elder of the Uniontown District, of which Bellevernon is one of the charges, preached a most excellent sermon to a deeply interested congregation. The sermon was clear, earnest, practical, and containing many striking points. We may remark, by the way, that he has made a most successful and popular Presiding Elder, as is evidenced by the improved condition of the District, and the esteem in which he is held by the people.

In the morning the pastor and official members were a little despondent, fearing that they could not secure sufficient money to meet their indebtedness. Notwithstanding the circumstances seemed unfavorable, the amount subscribed during the day reached the grand sum of three thousand dollars. This, for the wealth of the congregation, is one of the most liberal contributions given by any community, east or west, during the past year. Too much credit cannot be awarded to the pastor and his excellent co-laborers, Messrs. Davidson, Sutton, Speer, Brunson, Batten, Haught and Monsieur. The ladies, too, of the congregation here, from the commencement of the enterprise, rendered most efficient and valuable aid. We congratulate the congregation, and the citizens of Bellevernon, on the erection of this beautiful church edifice, and trust it will be to them a center of blessed moral influence. OLIN.

INDIAN TREATY.

Terms of the Treaty with the Kiowa and Camanches.

The treaty made by the Indian Commissioners with the Kiowa and Camanche tribes on the 21st inst., gives them about six thousand square miles, or three and a half million acres of land, embraced between the North Fork of the Red River and the Red River, beginning at the intersection of the thirty-fifth parallel of the ninety-eighth meridian, and embracing the southwestern corner of the present Indian Territory with a fraction from Texas. The tribes are now estimated at four thousand persons, or about eight hundred lodges. This land will therefore give them not less than eight hundred acres for each man, woman and child. It is also provided that these tribes shall induce their brethren, the Camanches of Northern Texas, to come and live with them. If they succeed, the United States will enlarge their reservations by adding a quantity of land sufficient to give each person three hundred and twenty acres. If the remaining Camanches can be induced to come in, this leaves a large section of country on the Texas frontier, and opens a way for civilization in a once powerful band. This reservation, where several bands of the Camanches are already farming, the Penetacher and others, it is proposed to build an agency, a warehouse and other buildings, for a teacher, farmer, miller, physician, &c., and that these persons be furnished to them, to live on the reservation, and aid the Indians. In lieu of the annuities provided under the treaty of 1865, it is proposed to give each Indian on the reservation, annually, a suit of clothing, consisting of coat, pantaloons, hat and socks. In addition to this, $25,000 annually is to be given in such articles as the Indians may most need. Several other provisions are made to furnish seeds and agricultural implements to such persons as may commence farming. The Indians agree to let all railroads be built, and especially the Smoky Hill and Platte roads. They agree to keep lasting peace; to capture no more women or children; that they will attack no more trains and cease to kill men. They will be allowed to hunt on the old reservation South of the Arkansas till the settlements drive away the buffalo.

Lewis Emerich, who was at one time an officer under Marshal Ney, died in Cleveland on Saturday, at the age of eighty years.

THE IMPRISONED FENIANS.

Release of Cols. Nagle and Warren Refused.

$34,000,000 Required to Pay Pensions Next Year.

Maryland and Delaware Not Strictly Republican in Form.

The Georgia Editor's Story Denied.

Increasing the Armament at Fort McHenry.

The Pay Department Investigation.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, October 28, 1867.

The American Fenians.

The State Department has information that the efforts of the Government to secure the release of Cols. Warren and Nagle, American Fenians, imprisoned in Ireland, have failed and that the British Government intends to proceed at once with their trial. The Department has directed that counsel be employed to defend them, and instructions have been sent to that effect to Minister Adams.

The Bureau Reports.

Many of the annual bureau reports of the Departments are completed and laid before the Secretaries. The Commissioner of Pensions states that the expenses of his office for the next fiscal year will be thirty-five millions of dollars, and that all but one million of that amount will be required to pay pensions.

Maryland.

The Maryland Committee closed their investigation to-day, and on November 13th will make their full report to the Judiciary Committee of the House. A majority of the Committee, it is understood, are of the opinion that neither Delaware nor Maryland have State Governments strictly republican in form.

Denial from General Dent.

As there are generally two sides to all Washington news of a political nature, it is but just to say that General Dent, the brother-in-law of General Grant, denies that the editor of the Atlanta, Georgia, Era, had a conversation with Gen. Grant on the Presidency and politics, the substance of which was telegraphed last night. The editor in question reasserts it, and proposes at once to publish the conversation. General Grant is absent from the city.

Batteries for Fort McHenry.

Recently three full batteries of Rodman pieces, the best light artillery in the service, have been fitted up and sent from the Washington Arsenal to Fort McHenry, Baltimore, which fact gives rise to many conjectures, among others that they were sent there because of apprehended trouble. It seems, however, that the garrison of that fort has been considerably increased of late by troops whose quarters were of too temporary a character, and with this increase of garrison was necessary an increase of armament.

The Conspirators.

The authorities have erected head boards over the trench in which the bodies of the conspirators are buried here, bearing the names respectively of the persons buried. It is understood that this is done in compliance with the orders of the War Department, in order to keep a record of them.

The Pay Department.

The special House Committee, Hon. Mr. Lincoln, of New York, [illegible] appointed to investigate the workings of the Pay Department, assembled in their room at the Capitol this morning. Several witnesses were examined to-day relative to the dismissal of clerks in that Department, a charge having been preferred by one of the clerks of the disloyalty and incompetency of some of his fellow employees, who were thereupon removed, subsequent to which he was himself discharged.

The Defeat of Mr Botts.

Returns from Virginia show that the successful conservative competitor of John Minor Botts for the Convention beat that gentleman by 69 votes. Mr. Botts received eight white votes and his competitor fourteen colored votes. Only one native white Virginian it is stated voted for Mr. Botts.

Military Matters.

The army headquarters will in a few days issue an order naming the limit of time in which officers heretofore ordered to the Southern military districts can report for duty. The abatement of the epidemic occasions the order.

Gen. Rawlins, chief of Grant's staff, has returned from a six months' trip on the plains.

Gen. Hancock will proceed in a day or two to take command of the Fifth Military District.

Solicitor of Internal Revenue.

The President is about to fill the vacancy of the office of Solicitor of Internal Revenue. No appointment has ever been made.

WASHINGTON, October 28.

FENIAN PRISONERS.

The British Government declines to release Colonels Warren and Nagle from custody, and has directed that their trial take place immediately. The State Department has directed the employment of counsel for their defense.

DIED OF YELLOW FEVER.

Surgeon J. D. Murphy died of yellow fever at Pensacola on the 26th.

PERSONAL.

Secretary Seward, accompanied by Vice Admiral Porter, was at the Navy Department this morning.

INTERNAL REVENUE REGULATIONS.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that selling or offering to sell distilled spirits at less than $2 per wine gallon, does not raise any presumption in law that the tax has not been paid, because the spirits may have been rectified and diluted.

It is not intended by the recent cotton regulation, series 3, No. 5, to require permits and bills of lading for removal of cotton from point to point within the district where the same is produced, as in case of removal from such district. A collector should not exact a fee of the tax payer for marking his cotton.

The report of more counterfeits discovered on Compound Interest Notes in New York is incorrect. They are the same counterfeits discovered several months since, none having recently passed the departments here.

THE PROSPECT IN THE SOUTH.

A special to the New York Post says: Intelligence received by the Union Republican Congressional Committee from the Southern States which have not yet held elections indicates that in all of them the party in favor of holding conventions will be successful.

Gen. Pope has allowed three days for the election in Georgia and Florida, because the voting there is to be done at county seats. This arrangement was made because the General thought he could protect the colored men and preserve order better than if they voted at the precincts, as in other States.

INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS.

Internal revenue receipts to-day $714,691 99.

J. ROSS BROWNE

Has returned from his tour of the Pacific coast, and is working on his official report. The general condition of the mining interest is represented healthy and prosperous, and the development of the Pacific slope in respect to other branches of industry is said to be absolutely wonderful. The statistical returns of production will not vary materially from the following: Montana, twelve million dollars; Idaho, six millions; Oregon, two millions; Colorado, five millions; Nevada, nineteen millions; California, twenty-five millions; miscellaneous, five million dollars for the present year. The iron works on Willamette river, Oregon, are averaging nine tons a day of first-class quality of iron. The wheat and flour exports of California will not fall far short of $10,000,000, and the manufactures alone are represented to amount to considerably more than the gold product. The wine crop this year will amount to three million dollars. While there is a falling off in the gold product, other branches of industry afford more than a counterbalance.

THE QUARTERLY STATEMENT

Of the National Banks of New York city shows a surplus of thirteen and a half millions, or seven per cent. over the twenty-five per cent. of reserve required by law.

CONDITION OF NATIONAL BANKS.

The abstract of the quarterly report of National Banking Associations shows the resources to be one thousand four hundred and ninety-five millions, including over ten millions in specie and nearly fifty-seven millions in compound interest notes. The capital stock is four hundred and nineteen and a half millions; surplus fund, sixty-six millions and two-thirds, and undivided profits thirty-three and a half millions.

PATENTS.

The Commissioner of Patents will issue, for the week ending on the 5th prox., three hundred and seven new patents. During the week five hundred and sixty-two applications and eighty-two caveats have been filed.

THE PENSION OFFICE.

The estimate of expenses of the Pension Office for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1869, is: Salaries and contingent expenses, $411,340; payment of pensions, $34,740,000; total, $35,151,340.

NEW FARMS.

During September last, one hundred and fifty-four farms, comprising 9,244 acres, were added to the productive force of the State of Mississippi under the homestead law.

PRE-EMPTION FORBIDDEN IN ALASKA.

In the absence of the necessary appropriations to pay for the territory Alaska, it is understood all pre-emptions in that quarter are in violation of law, and the military authorities will probably be instructed to remove such settlers until the purchase shall be finally consummated by the payment of the money, and the Government have prescribed regulations for the same.

CONFISCATION CASE.

In the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to day, Messrs. Riddle and Phillips entered their appearance for John D. Defrees, Superintendent of Public Printing, in the case of the United States vs. the west half of lot six, square 4,557, Henry B. Tyler, which comes before this court on an appeal and writ of error, this being one of the cases under the confiscation act where in the District Court a decree was made and the life estate of the owner sold, Mr. Defrees being the purchaser. Messrs. Carrington and Wilson represent the United States, and Messrs. Brent and Merrick are counsel for Major Taylor, who at the commencement of the rebellion left his position in the Marine Corps and engaged in the Southern cause.

NEW ORLEANS.

Terrible Effects of the Late Storm on the Rio Grande--A Large Number of Lives Lost---Immense Destruction of Property.

NEW ORLEANS, October 28.—The Picayune has the following advices, which confirm the destructive effects of the late storm upon the Rio Grande. The hurricane was the most terrible in the memory of man on the frontier. A perpetual bombardment for a year could hardly have done as much damage as happened from this one night's storm. Twenty-six persons were killed at Matamoras, and ten killed and one wounded at Brownsville. At Brazos, so far as known, twelve persons perished. Two schooners were blown ashore. Only two houses were left standing at Clarksville, and none at Bagdad. The loss of life in the latter place is not known. Ninety of the inhabitants escaped by going on board a vessel, which rode out the storm. The rest have perished.

The negro soldiers and their officers at Brazos are said to have acted infamously. They not only refused all assistance to the struggling and suffering families, but retired to the sheltered part of the Island, and the soldiers returned next day to rob the wrecked goods under the remains of warehouses and dwellings. One of them was shot and killed by a citizen, who detected him in robbing. Their officers, it is said, did nothing to check their brigandism.

From the long list of damages at Brownsville we extract the following: King & Kennedy's warehouse, roof blown off, building very badly damaged; county court house and jail completely destroyed and prisoners all at large; the entire square surrounded by Bowen, Fort Brown, Fourteenth, Levee and Elizabeth streets, is destroyed, including the Ranchero office and Masonic Hall; the Courier office has the roof off; the residence of W. J. Stark, correspondent of the New York Herald, was completely destroyed; the Custom House wall is down; the Presbyterian Church was destroyed; the post-office building roof was blown off; the hotel and elegant billiard saloon of Mr. Miller was almost ruined; the iron building of Wilkens, Hey & Co., was totally destroyed; between Tenth and First streets seven brick and four frame houses were either totally destroyed or so badly injured as to be uninhabitable.

In Matamoras 1,500 houses and huts were blown down. The greatest distress and want prevails at all points, and appeals have been made for relief. Out of seven steamers only two can be repaired.

There were ten deaths from yellow fever yesterday, and sixteen to-day. No frost yet. The absentees are cautioned to remain away a short time yet.

Reception of Sheridan at Portland.

PORTLAND, October 28.—General Sheridan arrived at one o'clock, and was received by a salute and the ringing of church bells. The city government were at the station to meet the party. Mayor Stevens made a speech of welcome, and Sheridan responded. The party then proceeded in carriages, escorted by a procession consisting of the Mechanic's Blues, "Army and Navy Union," Sheridan Guards. The cavalcade marched through the principal streets, which were filled by an immense crowd, to the City Hall, where Sheridan received the citizens who crowded to pay their compliments.

Gen. Sheridan was subsequently driven to his quarters at the Peeble House, where a banquet was given by the city government with a serenade and grand ball in the evening.

Billiard Tournament.

CINCINNATI, October 28.—The following were the games at the billiard tournament to-day: First game, Ackerman beat Snyder, 301 against 184; winner's average 18 13-16. Second game, Choate beat Rivers, 301 to 271; Choate's average 10 11-29. Third game, Foster beat Smith, 300 to 102; Foster's average 25. Fourth game, between Parker and Davis, Parker winner; average 17. Fifth game, Vermeulen beat Rivers, 302 against 282; winner's average 25 1-6. Sixth game, Coon beat Choate; score, Coon 300, Choate 192; winner's average 10 10-29. Thus far Foster is ahead of all competition, Coon second. The tournament will close on Wednesday.

Republican Meeting at Augusta---The Election.

AUGUSTA, October 28.—The Republicans held a mass meeting to-night. Messrs. Blodgett, Ballock, Canley and Beard, candidates for convention, made speeches indorsing the Atlanta platform. Steps have been taken to preserve order during the election. The freedmen are coming from the country this evening to take part in the election. There are no opposing candidates, the conservatives having determined to take no part in the election.

SAVANNAH, October 28.—The election for delegates to the convention will commence to-morrow, and continue three days.

From Quebec.

QUEBEC, October 28.—The ringleaders in the late demonstration of the shipcarpenters' strike were arrested to-day. A mob of several hundred roughs attempted to rescue them but were driven off by the soldiers. Bail to any amount was offered for the release of the prisoners, but refused. The gaol is guarded by a strong detachment of the rifle brigade.

The Inland Navigation Company, with a view of extending operations next year, have purchased the steamers Corithian and Union, also the American steamers Cataract, Bay State, Lord Elgin and Ontario.

AN affectionate but playful wife in Springfield, Mass., sent a note to her husband recently, written in a disguised hand, signed with a fictitious name, stating she had often seen and admired him, and if he would inform her of a place of meeting she would go over to the rooms and they would become better acquainted. Husband answered the note at once, appointing time and place of meeting. Both parties met at the appointed time and place, the lady heavily vailed, and proceeded to the rooms, where the vail was removed, and a grand tableaux not down on the bills ensued. Assurance made on the part of the husband that it was nothing but a joke, and that he knew it was her all the time. Wife is having a sylish bonnet, new cloak, and elegant silk dress made.

The Chicago and Milwaukee papers have a way of speaking, of which the following is a sample, taken from the Milwaukee Sentinel: "Frequently Milwaukee is cursed by a visit from a few of the enterprising citizens of Chicago. The police generally attend to these cases, and either send them out of town or put them to work for the county." It is not probable that respectable citizens of either city think well of this style of controversy.

CITY MATTERS.

A PITTSBURGHER MURDERED.—Intelligence has been received in this city announcing the fact that Mr. Robert Boggs, formerly a resident of this city, was murdered at Westport, Mo., a short time since by a man named Straub. It appears that Straub had committed some crime, and when the Marshal of the town attempted to arrest him, he resisted. Mr. Boggs went to the assistance of the officer, when the prisoner drew a knife and stabbed him so severely as to cause death almost instantaneously. Mr. Boggs, who was a brother of Wm. R. Boggs, Esq., member of the Common Council from the First ward, removed from this city to Westport about eighteen months since, and was engaged in the tinning business. He was thirty-nine years of age, and leaves a wife and two children. Mr. Boggs was well-known in this community, and his tragic death will be deeply regretted by a large circle of relatives and friends.

THE CITY COUNCILS.

Alleged Defalcation of City officers---The Spruce Alley Bill---Grading and Paving of Streets, &c., &c.

A stated meeting of the Select and Common Councils was held last evening.

COMMON COUNCIL.

Members present—Messrs Barnhill, Beck, Boggs, Brush, Coursin, Ford, Hare, Hemphill, House, Mawhinney, McQuewan, McClelland, McGowan, O'Neill, Robinson, Reed, Roenik, Roberts, Seibert, Sloan, Torley, Verner, Weldon, Welsh, and Steel, President.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

SEWER ON DIAMOND ALLEY.

Mr. House presented a petition from citizens on Diamond alley, praying that a sewer be placed on said thoroughfare, from the east side of Smithfield street to Wood street. Read and referred to Committee on Streets.

PUBLIC GAS LAMPS.

Mr. Hare offered a resolution providing for the erection of a public gas lamp on the corner of Garrison alley and Liberty street. Read and referred to Committee on Gas.

Mr. Rebman offered a resolution for the erection of a gas lamp on Grant street, between Sixth street and Strawberry alley. Similar reference.

Mr. Barnhill presented a petition, numerously signed, asking that a gas lamp be placed on the corner of Decatur and Townsend streets, and one between Clark and Decatur streets, on Townsend street. Referred to Gas Committee.

OPENING OF PIKE STREET.

Mr. McGowan presented a remonstrance, signed by sixty property holders, protesting against the proposed opening of Pike street, as it would involve an unnecessary expense. Referred to Street Committee.

A NUISANCE TO BE REMOVED.

Mr. Rebman offered a resolution instructing the Street Commissioners to cause to be removed from the corner of Stevenson street and Pennsylvania avenue, large iron and copper boilers, which interfered with the free passage of the street. Referred to Committee on Streets.

GRADING AND PAVING OF STREETS.

Mr. Ford presented a petition for the grading and paving of Mulberry alley, between Clymer and Smith streets, Ninth ward. Referred to Committee on Streets.

Mr. Coursin, a petition for the grading and paving of Crawford streets, from Centre avenue to Reed street, in the Sixth ward. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Coursin also presented a petition from residents on Elm street, relative to the grading and paving of said street. Read and referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Coursin, a petition relative to the grading and paving of Beatty's alley, in the Seventh ward. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Brush offered an ordinance providing for the opening of Vine Alley, from Washington to Federal streets, in the Sixth ward, in accordance with Watson's plan. Referred to Street Committee.

ASSESSMENT ABATED.

Mr. Ford presented a communication from Thomas Martin, representing that owing to the widening of Bedford street he had lost one hundred and twenty-two feet by two feet six inches of his property on said street, for which he received no allowance, and being a poor man and unable to pay for the grading and paving as assessed, he asked for a reduction of four hundred dollars on the claim against him for grading and paving. The communication was read and the prayer of petitioner granted.

DEFAULTING OFFICE HOLDERS.

Mr. O'Neill offered the following resolution:

> Resolved, That the Controller be and is hereby requested to inform Councils at their next meeting whether any of the city officers now in office, or who may have held office within the last five years, are indebted to the city, and, if so, that the Controller is further requested to inform Councils of the amount of such indebtedness and what steps, if any, have been taken towards collecting the same.

Mr. O'Neill stated that it was understood that parties had now in their possession several thousands of dollars belonging to the city, and he thought it desirable that it should be paid into the City Treasury at once.

The resolution was read three times and passed.

SPRUCE ALLEY AGAIN.

Mr. Brush presented to Councils a copy of the bill which passed at the last session of the Legislature, vacating Spruce alley, from Carroll to Wilkins streets, together with the following resolution:

> Resolved, That a committee of five, two from Select and three from the Common Councils be appointed to confer with the owners of said property in regard to the price to be paid for the vacation of said alley.

Mr. Ford spoke strongly against the passage of the resolution, and stated that the citizens of the Ninth ward were almost unanimously opposed to the vacation of the alley.

Remarks were also made by Messrs. Brush, Seibert and O'Neill, after which the opinion of Mr. Slagle, the City Solicitor, was asked. Mr. Slagle said that under the act it was necessary that the consent of Councils should be given before the vacation could properly be made. The question might arise whether that consent had not already been given, but he thought that Councils could not be held for any action taken previous to the passage of the act.

By general consent the matter was referred to the Street Committee. In S. C. received and filed.

Mr. McQuewan presented a communication from the Controller, covering sundry bills for paving Bedford street, which was read and referred to Finance Committee.

Council then adjourned.

SELECT COUNCIL.

Members present: Messrs. Armstrong, Brown, Coffin, Crawford, Dickson, Gallaher, McCarthy, McEwen, McMillan, Morrow, Phillips, Tanner, Thompson, White, Wilson, and McAuley, President.

The minutes of the two preceding meetings were read and approved.

OPENING OF ROSS STREET.

Mr. McEwen presented a petition from citizens residing on Rose street, in the Seventh ward, asking that the same be opened from Overhill to Devillers street, which was accompanied by an ordinance providing for the opening of the same, and appointing David Sims and James McCabe viewers. The ordinance was read twice, and, on motion of Mr. Morrow, laid over for one month.

RESOLUTIONS, AC.

Mr. Thompson offered a resolution authorizing the erection of a gas lamp on Hancock street. Adopted.

Mr. Brown offered a resolution authorizing the Water Committee to receive from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company $16,888 98, to be expended in laying a water pipe, of greater capacity, on Liberty street, which sum is to be repaid to the Company from the water rents accruing to the city from said Company. Adopted.

Mr. McEwen offered an ordinance providing for the change of the names of Fountain, Prospect and Bedford streets to Bedford avenue. Read three times and passed.

Mr. McMillan offered a resolution providing for the erection of a gas lamp at the corner of Center avenue and Dinwiddie street. Referred to Gas Committee.

Also a petition from Mr. Zug asking permission to erect a bridge on Etna street.

On motion the petition was granted, provided the grant did not extend over the time given, and that the petitioner be responsible for all damages arising from the same.

Mr. McMillan offered a resolution providing for the erection of two gas lamps on Bedford and Gum streets. Adopted.

COMMUNICATION FROM CONTROLLER.

A communication from the City Controller was read, inclosing sundry bills, and recommending the transfer of a number of appropriations, accompanied by a resolution, authorizing the payment of the bills, and providing for the transfers as suggested. Adopted.

WHARFAGE.

Mr. Morrow presented an ordinance providing that the rates of wharfage on all steamboats landing at the Monongahela wharf, making two trips per week, shall be four and a half cents per ton. Read three times and passed.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

The Committee appointed to investigate the claim of Atwell, Lee & Co., for damages sustained by the loss of tobacco, by reason of a defect in the Wood street sewer, recommended that the trial of the cause be confined to a statement of the case by the attorney. The report was accepted and adopted.

TELEGRAPH POLES ON LIBERTY STREET.

The President read a communication from John H. Hampton, Esq., Solicitor of the Pennsylvania Railroad, asking the passage of an ordinance authorizing the company to erect telegraph poles on the south side of Liberty street, from Morris street eastward to the city line. The communication was received and the ordinance passed, the city reserving the right to use the poles, if necessary, for the Fire Alarm Telegraph.

GAS LAMPS.

Mr. White—A resolution authorizing the erection of three gas lamps on Watson street, between Boyd and Chestnut street. Referred to Gas Committee.

Councils adjourned.

Receipt of Oil by a New Route.

Two tank cars of crude oil consigned to Messrs. Bly & Binkerdon, were yesterday received at this point, by the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway—being the first arrival of through cars by the Franklin and Jamestown route. These tanks contain forty-five barrels each. Cars will run regularly on this line hereafter, and it is expected that large shipments of oil will be made to this point. The Franklin and Jamestown road connects with the Pittsburgh and Erie road at Jamestown; thence freight is carried over the Pittsburgh and Erie road to New Castle, and over the Beaver Valley to the Fort Wayne line, and thence to this city.

Gen. Grant in Allegheny County.

At a meeting of the Allegheny County Republican Executive Committee held yesterday afternoon, on motion of Col. Wm. A. Herron, a resolution was adopted recommending the nomination of General U. S. Grant for the Presidency by the Republican National Convention. The resolution was adopted unanimously, and every member of the Committee present was enthusiastically in favor of Grant for the office. The resolution is as follows:

> Resolved, That Allegheny county has full faith in the unflinching loyalty of the hero of many battles, the savior of our country, General Ulysses S. Grant. That in him we recognize a leader worthy of endorsement, and urge his election to the Presidency as a fitting acknowledgment of his patriotism and fidelity to his Government. That in view of the situation as now presented to our apprehension, we welcome the movement in his behalf upon the recognized and honorable principles of the Union Republican party; believing that with him at the head there will be no more panics, no further hesitancies, and no senseless parings down, but a steady and prompt movement for the reconstruction of the Union on a basis that shall promote the ends of public justice, ensure the tranquility of all sections, bind the different States together again in one heart and one mind for the accomplishment of the great destiny that awaits them.

AN UNGENEROUS PUBLICATION.—Some of the morning papers yesterday, in publishing accounts of the outrage upon the person of Anna Fitzpatrick, stated that she had been discovered by a student connected with the Western Theological Seminary, who removed her to his room in Beatty's Hall, and did not even notify the janitress of the building of the fact until ten o'clock the following morning. Such was not the case. The girl was found by a young man who was passing along Ridge street, and who conveyed her to the hall, where she was received by the student in question, who surrendered to her his own room, and immediately summoned two physicians. The conduct of the student was exceedingly praiseworthy, and the implied suspicion in the accounts of the affair alluded to are ungenerous, and looks as though the authors of the articles were gratifying a malicious desire to injure a worthy gentleman, whose only fault was his connection with a religious institution whose faith differs from that which they have espoused. If such is really the case they have signally failed.

Trinity Choir Concert To-Night.

Our readers will bear in mind that the Trinity Church Choir Concert will take place this evening in City Hall. The programme embraces secular music from the writings of some of the most eminent English and German composers, and as it has been thoroughly rehearsed, a most delightful concert is promised. All who have heard the choir sing know well the entertainment will be a charming one, and it is only necessary to assure those who have not heard it, that it is composed of charming vocalists, whose harmonious utterances cannot fail to please. Tickets may be had at the music stores, and at the door this evening.

THE SCULLING MATCH.—Mr. Mckiel, in company with Mr. Delaney, who accompanied him from New York, visited the upper Monongahela course yesterday afternoon, and sculled his beautiful boat over it. He expressed himself as much gratified with the course, and appears confident as to the result of the contest. He is still stopping at the National Hotel on Water street, but will probably remove his quarters to Glenwood to-day.

Public Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, there was a large audience present last night to witness the performance of Chanfrau's new play "Our American Cousin at Home." The play is designed to introduce "Lord Dundreary" and his brother "Sam," both of whom carry out their respective characters in much the same way they do in the plays "Our American Cousin" and "Sam." There is an abundance of fun in the play and it will become popular.

MASONIC HALL.—The Lubin Brothers, magicians, gave a splendid entertainment at Masonic Hall last evening. Mrs. L. McKennan, of Jane street, Birmingham, drew the china tea set. The Lubins perform again to-night.

SOCIAL SOIREE.—The Smoky City Base Ball Club give a grand social soiree to-morrow evening, at Wilkins Hall, Fourth street. The music will be by the Washington Cornet Band, and a pleasant party is anticipated.

THE day is not far distant when the majority of the people in want of musical instruments for their homes, will not rest satisfied with the mere testimony of advertisements, but their purchases will be based upon the actual musical merits and mechanical excellencies of the desired instruments. Messrs. S. D. & H. W. Smith, of Boston, manufacturers of the American Organs, have been favored with such a class of customers, and have thus been enabled to build up an immense trade, notwithstanding the great competition which exists in this particular branch of business.—Musical Review.

GILKESON & CO., 60 Market street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

WANTED—AGENT—A thoroughly reliable, energetic Agent to canvass this city for a valuable book, entitled, The Four Great Nations, England, France, Russia and America. To a competent man, liberal terms. Apply at 59 Fourth street, in the basement.

WANTED—AGENTS—Energetic men and ladies wanted to canvass for the Origin and History of the Books of the Bible, by Prof. Calvin E. Stowe, D. D., showing what the Bible is not, what it is, and how to use it; tracing the history of each book up to its origin with the inspired authors and completely answering all Infidel cavils and objections to the Scriptures. It is an ordinary library of Biblical history in a single volume, brief, clear, accurate, conclusive and highly interesting. A master piece of common sense, it is needed in every family where the Bible is read, as well as by every Sabbath School Teacher, Student and Clergyman, and being the only book on the subject ever published or sold in this country, agents can easily see the advantage of canvassing for this work. Send for circulars, containing notices and indorsements from leading ministers of all denominations. Address ZEIGLER, McCURDY & CO., 614 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa. d*

FOR GRANT.

At the meeting of the Republican Executive Committee of Allegheny county, held yesterday, a resolution was adopted unanimously recommending Gen. GRANT for President. In taking this action the Committee have but responded to the voice of the people in this Republican stronghold, and followed the lead of a popular sentiment which is spreading, and is destined to spread over the country, bearing down everything before it. We are pleased to record the fact that the suggestion we threw out on Monday morning has been so promptly responded to. We doubt not that public meetings for the organization of GRANT Clubs will follow.

LYING ABOUT GRANT.

The correspondents are at it again. With malice as deliberate as ever possessed the rebels, they are after Gen. GRANT—and this time we are sorry to say, our own is among the crowd. This time they send out the stuff which an Atlanta, Georgia, Editor has concocted, in return for the civility of an interview with the General. Perhaps it is the same who had an interview with Mr. STEVENS, and whose report the Lancaster Representative denied with an expletive more characteristic than elegant. GRANT is reported as having declared that he would prefer a nomination from the Conservatives rather than the Radicals. This savors of the falsehood BLAIR told about him, and for which the General snubbed him very directly. Considering that his first friend—Mr. WASHBURNE—is a Radical of the first water, and that most of the leading Radicals—the home of THAD. STEVENS included—are for him, the report is amusing. Our only regret in the premises is, that a midnight dispatch, retailing this Georgia Editor's story, had the advantage of our circulation for one day. We have a far more reliable definition of the General's political views by the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, who writes as follows:

The Blairs—speed the day when we can say "of infamous memory"—the Blairs having found that they can't use General Grant are now doing their best to ruin him. So far as in them lies, I suppose, they will be full of mischief and deviltry as long as they live. They are declaring, as opportunity occurs, that the General is gratified at the result of the recent elections—that the Republican reverse gives him pleasure. Is it worth while to make a formal contradiction of this assertion—worth while to write and print the words, IT IS A LIE?

"There is no loss without some gain"—and Grant, after the election, very quickly began to look about for our gain! He found it where the great body of the Republican party found it. He says the reverse will keep us close to the work with which we are specially charged—the reconstruction of the Union on a sound foundation. There was a disposition to take up side issues—the elections show that the country wants this great question of restoration settled without unnecessary delay. The Republican party was falling into the hands of the extremists and demagogues; there was a seeming willingness to let corrupt politicians monopolize the offices and ranting rattleheads the leadership—it was necessary to show that good men ought to be put in nomination and the counsels of true and moderate men followed. This is where Grant stands—he doesn't believe the Democratic party is coming into power; doesn't believe the country is about to give itself up to men who opposed the war. I've no doubt he finds it rather comforting to see that the masses of the people don't mean to commit themselves to the views of Mr. Stevens and General Butler, Mr. Sumner and Mr. Chandler. But he doesn't rejoice with the Blairs and the President in the defeat of the Republican party. He says the set-back will teach wisdom—with due energy and prudence this winter and in the spring, he thinks, there isn't the least fear that the Copperheads will carry the election next year.

ON THE OLD TRACK.

If the Democrats wish to have their war record forgotten, as they unquestionably do, the way they take to accomplish it proves them to be still under the fatality of blundering, which has marked their conduct for years past. By charging the debt, disorder and taxation of the country on the Republican party, they take the most certain and direct method of keeping alive the recollection of their own complicity with the seditious leaders of secession, in bringing these burdens upon us. The falsity of the allegation will not only keep the remembrance of the past fresh in the minds of Republicans, but will make it an active force in their political contests with the Democratic party, which first abetted a tremendous wrong, and then tries to fix the odium of it on others.

Their naming of G. H. PENDLETON as a candidate for the Presidency, in opposition to such a man as General GRANT, is a further evidence of the doomed blundering of the party, as well as of their preference of the Rebel to the Union principles. The false democracy of the former adhered to him through all the country's trials, and he steadily sympatised not with the defenders but with the assailants of the Union. It is proposed to place him in opposition to GRANT, whose true democracy transferred him, in the day of his country's danger, into the fellowship of the Republican Union party. And while the one only caviled at the Government's measures, and was apparently, at least, indifferent to its success, the other devoted himself to its interests and became the grand engineer of its success. The naming of PENDLETON for President, by the Democrats, and especially in opposition to GRANT, will bring up to Republican minds with freshness and vigor, the remembrance of the old days of sympathy with the Rebels and hatred of Union defenders. It seems to indicate either stone blindness or blank despair. Or, if the party really indulges any hope in such a contest, it gives evidence of nothing so much as a low estimate of the people's judgment and capacity. If the party should throw out Mr. PENDLETON and take Mr. SEYMOUR, it would not be much better for it, and if General McCLELLAN should come home and take the party, it could not be much worse. General GRANT, should he be nominated in form by the Republican Convention, is able to beat either.

LABOR OF LOVE.

Governor SEYMOUR has undertaken the task of piloting the Democratic party into power again. But just as he gets fairly at work he finds the prospect destroyed and all his hopes dispelled by the certainty that General GRANT, the Republican candidate, will be the next President. There is in this that which amounts almost to cruelty. Banished from power and patronage for years, on account of their disloyalty, just as the Democratic leaders begin to entertain lively hopes of returning again to the offices which at one time they seemed to think were created for them, the prospect changes to one of absolute certainty against them. In SEYMOUR's case the circumstances are peculiarly aggravating. Having kept himself aloof so that he might come upon the track as the most available candidate of the Democracy; having nursed his ambition to an intense pitch, and banished from his mind every doubt that his time was at hand, his disappointment is necessarily of the keenest description. In a general way the disappointment is shared by the Democratic leaders and party. Their finely concocted schemes for presenting issues as well as candidates; their plans for carrying States in detail and parceling out offices among the faithful well-nigh famished from long banishment to short commons, are all at once upset by a single stroke of adverse fortune so overwhelming that, in the language of the Pittsburgh Post, it will be useless to make an effort. Under these circumstances, Mr. SEYMOUR will be excused if his eloquence should be less effective than usual, and the applause of his party feeble and uncertain.

THE Virginia press is very bitter over the election. It cannot be reconciled to the result. The Whig says "the negroes have drawn a deep blood-red line between themselves and the whites," and by voting as they did "have left us"—that is the late rebels—"no choice but to regard them, henceforth, as enemies." Considering that heretofore the relation between them has been that of master and slave, no great amount of good feeling will be lost. Considering that the "negro party" is strong enough to carry the State by thirty thousand, it is probable no serious consequence will come to them from the threat. They who make it are not likely to help their case much by carrying into effect the threat to discharge from work all the negroes who voted the Radical ticket. It is possible that the negroes, and the white men who act with them, have not, in all respects, acted with the greatest wisdom, but they are not likely to attempt to break up the Union or re-enact slavery.

DWELLINGS OF OPERATIVES.

Any person who has been for a few years past, a resident in this city, must have observed the improvements made in our great manufacturing establishments. The buildings in which the works are carried on and the dwellings of the operatives, are generally of a far better character than they formerly were, indicating increased wealth, liberality and taste. That it is good policy to make such improvements, there can be no room to doubt. Where the owners consult and promote the convenience and comfort of their workmen and families, advantages of no small value redound to themselves, in the greater degree of contentment, cheerfulness and assiduity of their employees.

The position of dwellings in the immediate vicinity of works, in which large quantities of our kind of coal are used, renders them anything but attractive. The smoke, dust and soot filling the air and penetrating every nook, corner and crevice, are a perpetual cause of annoyance and vexation to tidy housekeepers. And while this proximity of the dwellings to the works is maintained, every effort that can be made to mitigate the annoyance may be reasonably demanded. For the want of them, we believe cases have occurred, in which desirable skilled workmen have declined to make engagements in this city, even at liberal wages.

It is therefore gratifying to notice the gradual, and in some instances great advances made in the quality of houses and in the conveniences and comforts of their surroundings. Individual enterprise and taste have done all that has been done, in this respect. The public authorities have hardly kept pace with private improvements, in keeping the streets and alleys about the works in a cleanly, healthful and unobstructed condition. It would be a still further advance, for the convenience and comfort of the working people and their families, if the dwellings could be located at some distance from the works. The street railway conveniences are such, or might readily be made such, as to render this practicable, in the new establishments from time to time put in operation. The city, as such, has a deep interest in the maintenance of our numerous and extensive manufactories in a condition of efficiency, and whatever can be done to mitigate the unavoidable annoyances connected with the coal smoke and soot showers should be brought into requisition.

THE spasm stimulated by the Washington correspondents about impeachment, the burden whereof was that a majority of the Committee having the matter in charge, are in favor of impeaching the President the first thing after Congress meets, is about over. There has at no time been any authority for such a report; and there is no more light on the subject now than there was three months ago. The Committee may, indeed very likely will, decide in favor of impeachment; but the members have not conferred together, and no one is authorized to say how a majority of them stand. Independent of the Committee, there will be spirited opposition on the Republican side of the House to impeachment, and nothing is more improbable than a majority concurring in the policy from the word "go."

The New British Minister.

The appointment of Mr. Thornton by the British Government, as the successor of Sir Frederick Bruce at Washington, does not seem to please the London Times, which paper says Great Britain has no man too good to represent it in the United States. It says the mission to Washington is an exceptional post, which should only be conferred for special and peculiar considerations of fitness, and not because the appointee stood ready for promotion and was deserving of it. While there are some in this country, and they are not worth thinking about, who regard the title of an embassador more highly than the merits of the man, the Times's assertion that a title has great weight even in Republics, because it represents at once the culture, refinement and power of the English nation, is the reverse of complimentary to the intelligence of American citizens as a whole. Mr. Thornton is represented as having filled with credit to the nation and satisfaction of the British government other diplomatic posts held by him.

Help from Satan.

The New York Herald, better known as "the Satanic," has discarded from its Sunday issue all allusions to things theatrical, and "any such profane things," as it calls them. Now, if theatrical matters be "profane things," why does the Herald make so great a parade of them on each day of the working week. Are they not less dangerous to the readers of the Herald on week days as they would be to Sunday readers? This is one of the moves of the Evil One, who, it is said, can preach scripture as well as any orthodox minister. Instance the following unblushing statement.

Every day of the week we are the inveterate enemy of evil-doers and their works, but we shall devote Sundays especially in making war on Satan and all the alluring snares he lays to catch pleasure seekers. As the "religious press" has been able to do little or nothing in keeping down the arch enemy of mankind, we shall try now what we can do.

As an illustration of this intention, the Herald of Sunday contains several columns descriptive of the races of Saturday.

No reasonable objection can be raised against clean streets and sidewalks, and due praise should be awarded to the city authorities and private owners of houses for all seasonable efforts in making them so. But it may be doubted whether the best time for doing it is when the sidewalks are crowded with passengers, and especially if the hose is in the hands of boys who amuse themselves with seeing how near they can direct the streams of water to the passing broadcloth and silk without hitting or sprinkling them. The timing of these pavement washings is in other cities regulated by public authority, and we respectfully recommend the subject to our city authorities, as a matter of public convenience.

ACCORDING to the latest dispatches from our new Russian purchase, the chief product of the country is fog, most of which is very old and in a perfect state of preservation. The expedition sent out to take observations, although arriving in the month of August, the most delightful season of the year, after making a six day's attempt, gave up the job till the weather should clear. The rain and fog held complete sway, and on that account it took several days to find Sitka, which was hard by. Arriving there, however, the Russians gave them a cordial welcome—a sort of bear-hug.

AN extract from Madison's Debates in the Constitutional Convention is made to show that the proposition to fix in the constitution a clause providing for the President's suspension while on trial on charges of impeachment was made in the organic convention in 1787, and voted down by eight States, in opposition to three in favor of the motion. This is cited as conclusive that even should articles be preferred against the President, he cannot be suspended from the duties of his office pending the trial.

THE Chicago Republican speaking of the Nicolson pavement in that city, says it is the accepted opinion that when it was laid it has proved satisfactory. "We honestly doubt," says that paper, "if a single block in the city ought honestly to call for repairs had it been carefully put down at the outset, and subsequently wisely set down by the authorities. It is never too late too mend in these matters, and mending the system is cheaper than mending the streets."

IN 1859 a St. Louis business man, prosperous and happy, caught a thief in his room, who, on pleading for mercy and promises to lead an honest life, was let go. The merchant failed and became poor and needy. Lately his old acquaintance met him, and on finding out his unfortunate condition gave him $10,000 as an acknowledgment which he had long intended to make. As a rule it will not do to let thieves go in the expectation of getting $10,000 sometime.

THE ABYSSINIAN EXPEDITION.—The London Times has some misgivings about the Abyssinian expedition. It says: It is vain to disguise, what every one knows and feels, that by invading Abyssinia we are making another leap in the dark, quite as venturesome as that which signalized last session. The geography and resources of Abyssinia are less well ascertained than were those of Afghanistan in 1839, while the political motive for hostilities against it is incalculably weaker.

A Needed Railway Reform.

The accommodation of travelers by railway has of late years occupied to a certain extent the attention of railway managers, and many conveniences have been provided that have added greatly to the comfort of passengers. Most of these arrangements, however, have been confined to the perfection of the sleeping car, and giving it an air of luxury that one finds very agreeable during the night, but which, after all, has many draw-backs, and is not much more pleasant than the ordinary car after the sleepers are aroused and the "hammocks" stowed away. A convenience that is much needed, and that would be found to be as remunerative as sleeping cars, is a compartment car or cars, so arranged that the occupants would not be subject to the annoyance from any and everybody, as is now the case on all trains. The present system of forcing all classes and conditions of men into one car—sensitive and nervous people, filthy and revolting persons, robust people who cannot endure without open windows and abundant air, and delicate people to whom the draught is little less than fatal—is decidedly unpopular with those who constitute the bulk of the traveling community, and who would gladly pay for a separate compartment which they could call their own, if such a convenience were to be had. The cost of furnishing such a car would not be more than that of an ordinary car: Omit the seats in the ordinary car, and divide it into compartments of various sizes, provided with tables and chairs, and so constructed as to prevent strong currents of air, and to which access would be strictly forbidden except by those who paid for them and the conductor. The occupant would thus be relieved from all the above mentioned sources of annoyance, as well as from peddlers of peanuts, candies and trashy literature. Such conveniences would find ready takers, and when once inaugurated would become so popular as to require their adoption on all roads.

River Improvement.

The Central Committee of the River Improvement Convention of February, 1867, have just issued an appeal to the people of the Valley States, to aid in the proposed improvement of the navigable rivers of the Mississippi Valley. The appeal is written in strong terms, and earnestly asks the co-operation of the people in behalf of a movement which will insure the development of their resources, increased ability to meet the claims of the Government, and a large decrease in annual expenditures. The question of ability to produce was no longer in doubt, but it was a question of facility and cheapness of transportation that was to be solved. The appeal will apply with equal force to the people of the Ohio Valley, who should at once exert themselves in behalf of the improvement of the Ohio river. The Committee says:

Do you ask, then, for a cheap channel in which the superabundance of the valley may find its way to our Eastern ports and foreign Markets? Look to the improvement of the eighteen thousand miles of navigable rivers which drain this garden of the world. There are a few obstructions in this great highway, which are an immense tax upon the commerce of the valley, causing delay and danger, and sometimes amounting to impassable barriers. They are fully capable of being overcome; by the expenditure of a few millions of dollars they can be removed. But your reply is that this involves expenditure. We admit it; but only such expenditure as the farmer incurs when he sows his wheat. If expended it is paid back in one year seven fivefold. Last year, with all the disadvantages of poor crops and financial pressure, eight million tons of commerce were floated upon the Ohio and Mississippi alone. Every steamboat owner or captain will assure you that ten cents on the hundred pounds will be certainly removed from the cost of transportation when these obstacles are removed. That alone would save to the valley in a single year, of the cost of transportation, sixteen millions of dollars. Add to this the increase of this year over last, and you may place the estimate safely twenty millions saved.

Vallandigham Going It!

Vallandigham is on the stump in Ohio with the view of creating popular sentiment in his favor for the United States Senate. On the 24th instant he spoke at Mount Vernon, Knox County. He opened after the following fashion:

First, men of Knox, I give fervent thanks to Almighty God for the blessings of this day. Next, to you, my friends, I make hearty acknowledgment of the earnest, devoted, passionate enthusiasm of this reception. There is no speech nor language, dead or living, strong enough or copious enough to express the emotions of my heart at this moment.

"Could I embody and unbosom now
That which is most within me—could I wreak
My thoughts upon expression, and thus throw
Soul, heart, mind, passions, feelings, strong or weak,
All that I would have sought, and all I seek,
Bear, know, feel, and yet breathe, into one word,
And that word were lightning, I would speak."

But pardon me, men of Knox, if, subduing my own swelling but voiceless thoughts and emotions, I beg yours, too, may be hushed for a moment, while calmly, and, through historic narrative, I call your memories back to the events which to-day we commemorate.

THE Phrenological Journal, of New York, a monthly magazine, has given at different times the likenesses in groups and accompanying biographical sketches of representative clergymen in the various denominations. It has already published, in this way, the characters of prominent men in the Baptist, Presbyterian, Unitarian, Methodist Episcopal, Protestant Episcopal and Universal Churches. The November number has a similar group of Methodist (late Methodist Protestant) preachers, some of whom are known in this community, and among whom are Drs. Stockton, of Philadelphia, Brown, of Springfield, Reeves and Collier, of Pittsburgh, &c. The number will have a special interest to this denomination.

"THE women of Kansas," in their address demanding the right of suffrage, close with the following assault on their "erring sisters" of the East: "Whatever, then, may be the opinion of fair ladies who dwell in ceiled houses in our older Eastern States and cities, who, like the lilies, neither toil nor spin, whose fair hands would gather close their silken apparel at the thought of touching the homelier garments of many a heroine of Kansas—whatever they may say in reference to this question, we, the women of the Spartan State, declare, we want to vote."

PERSONAL.

—Prof. Hoppin, in his "Old England," relates this anecdote of Charles Lamb, as told him by a former fellow-clerk in the East India House: "One day a wealthy London merchant was ushered into the room, and introduced to Mr. Lamb as "Mr. So-and-So, a distinguished spice merchant.' 'Oh, yes,' said Lamb, quick as lightning, 'I'm happy to see you, sir; I smelt you coming.'"

—We see it stated in various papers that Kate Field (Straws, Jr.,) is thirty-nine years of age, and that she was born in Mobile. She is neither thirty-nine years old, nor was she born in Mobile. Her age, if anybody wishes to know it, is twenty-five years, and she was born in St. Louis. She is the only daughter of the late J. M. Field, Esq., a writer of great vigor, and an actor of no ordinary merit. Mr. Field was manager of the Mobile theater for several years and the Varieties of St. Louis, under whose auspices it was built.

—General Harney, who is sixty-seven years of age, is six feet three inches in height, and is as straight as an arrow, and in his younger days used to excel every Indian on the plains with whom he came in contact, in running, jumping, and wrestling. He is known universally among the Indians as the "fast runner."

—A little daughter of the late Miramon, executed at Queretaro with the Emperor, died lately, and was buried the day following in the same tomb with her father. It is said she grieved herself to death on account of the loss of her father. The widow of General M. has been made a Princess by the Emperor of Austria, and will take her departure to that country very shortly.

—A City of Mexico letter says: "The country has recently suffered an irreparable loss in the death of Eustace Barron, Esq., who expired very unexpectedly on the morning of the 10th inst. Mr. Barron was one of the wealthiest capitalists of Mexico, his estates amounting to millions. As the head of the celebrated house of Barron, Forbes & Co., he was known all over the world, and he will also be remembered as the defendant in the great trial for the possession of the New Almaden quicksilver mines, in California. It was through the house of Barron, Forbes & Co. that Maximilian negotiated his loan during the early days of the Empire, and through their influence alone the measure was carried to a successful issue. Mr. Barron was one of the most progressive men in all Mexico, using his immense capital with a lavish hand in the promotion of internal improvements, and ever ready to engage in any enterprise looking to the welfare and prosperity of the country."

—As an illustration of George Francis Train's intense patriotism, it is stated that, on one occasion, he sent his wife on a ninety days' voyage from Australia to New York, that their coming child might be born on American soil, as would become a possible future President of the United States. The journey was a most troublous one, and the lady came very near being shipwrecked; but at last reached this country in safety. The child was born, and—it was a girl.

—When Charles Dickens stands up to read he seems oblivious of his audience. No applause moves him to leave an abstracted mood. He is the interpreter of a drama, and the roomful of ladies and gentlemen has no existence to him. A book lies before him, and he turns over the leaves; but he rarely looks at the pages. He knows them by heart. At first it strikes you his voice is artificial. There is a theatrical tone in it which prepares you for a disappointment; but, in the case of nine lecturers out of ten, this impression goes off, and the laugh or the tear defy the strongest will. Mr. Dickens extremely dislikes, while reading, the noise of people entering or leaving, and printed slips are usually placed at the doors begging that silence be maintained. What he may do in the United States is not known; but in England he does not address a syllable to the audience. On entering he goes straight to his desk and commences therewith. How rich are his creations! His Sam Weller; Mrs. Gamp; little Dombey, the Judge in the famous divorce trial in Pickwick—if you hear these you will conceive a greater admiration than ever for the humor and pathos which distinguishes them.

FROM PORT HOMER, O.

The Southwestern Railroad Enterprise—Reorganization and Work Resumed—Another Outlet to the Atlantic.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

PORT HOMER, O., October 24, 1867.

The election being over, politics being dead, and there being no news, I will take the liberty to post you up in regard to our new railroad enterprise. The Southwestern Railroad, running from New England station on the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad through the counties of Athens, Morgan, Noble, Guernsey, Harrison, Carroll and Jefferson, was chartered in 1852 or 1853. After a struggle of two years it collapsed for want of vitality. It has recently been reorganized, and the following are the officers for the ensuing year: Thos. W. Peacock, President; Imri R. Kelly, Chief Engineer; Andrew Smith, Treasurer; James Milholland, Secretary. Mr. Peacock was the first President of the road, and his well-known financial capacity placed him at the head of the Company on its reorganization. Chief Engineer Kelly was formerly engaged on the Central Ohio Railroad. He ranks high among railroad men, and is considered one of the most progressive men of the Engineer corps of our country.

Sufficient stock is already taken to pay the expense of grading from the Pittsburgh & Cleveland Railroad, its Eastern terminus, to the National Road. Twenty-five miles is already graded—from the Central Ohio Railroad to the Muskingum River, and the contract let to Warner, McArthur & Co. to complete ready for use.

The eastern terminus is not definitely located yet, but Yellow Creek seems to be the favorite point at present. Chief Engineer Kelly is now locating the road on Yellow Creek. The average grade from Pittsburgh and Cleveland Railroad to Moorestown is seven feet per mile, and average cutting and filling two to three feet. By this it will be seen that there is no heavy work on this portion of the line. Work will be commenced this fall on the line between Yellow Creek Station and Moorestown. When completed this will develope one of the richest, if not the richest, mineral region of Ohio, and will furnish employment to thousands of men in this now secluded portion of our State—secluded for want of railroad facilities to move the mineral and agricultural wealth they possess.

A survey is already talked of from this point to New Lisbon, to connect with the branch leading to the Atlantic and Great Western Road, opening another route from Southern and Central Ohio to the Atlantic.

The coal works in this locality are all quiet, as there is no market. The new rolling mill at Huntersville is going ahead as fast as possible.

Our friend Crawford has just erected a fine station house, at his own expense, at Port Homer. No more shanty station. Peace to its ashes.

River very low and business lower.

Yours, SALINA.

Two maps just published in France are entitled "France that can read and France that can write." It the latter the districts in which persons married in 1866 could not sign the register—in a proportion varying from 30 to 75 per cent—are marked in black. Fifty-five departments are thus denounced, comprising all the south, center, and west of France. The ten departments where the largest number of the newly married have been able to sign (the others being only from 1.44 to 6.77 per cent.) are the Lower Rhine, Meuse, Vosges, Haute Marne, Meurthe, Upper Rhine, Moselle, Doubs, Jura and Manche. The averages of the illiterate marriages in 1866 is 33 per cent. The Siecle, which sums up these statistics, says: 'One-third of France unable either to read or write! Fifty-five departments out of 89, in which the number of illiterate persons is from 30 to 75 per cent. Is it not a shame? And we talk of a new military organization. Let us rather busy ourselves with the instruction of this black phalanx of ignorance; let us devote to this national work a tithe of the millions we uselessly squander. Let us begin by beating Prussia on this ground. As regards primary instruction we are in the lowest rank of the European powers, and we imagine ourselves to be marching at the head of civilization!'

UCHATIUS STEEL.—The process of M. Uchatius, an officer in the Austrian service, for making steel by mixing granulated iron and iron ore in proper proportions in a crucible, was patented here many years ago by an American, and we believe before any similar plan had been tried in Europe. The process was never carried into practical operation for commercial purposes in this country; however, a large company was formed in France, more than ten years ago, for making steel under the Uchatius patents, but it failed to produce steel of uniform quality. The cause of its failure is now known to be the employment of improper ores. In Sweden this kind of steel has been made with great success by mixing the very pure and rich magnetic ores of the Bisberg mines with granulated pig iron made from the same ore, and adding a little manganese or manganese ore. This steel is remarkable for its tenacity and uniformity of grain. It is used exclusively by the Royal Mint, at Stockholm, for dies of coining presses, polished rolls and other similar articles requiring great strength, closeness and regularity of grain.

SINCE the war has closed, Americans have swarmed into Europe, and taken possession of Briton's happy hunting grounds. For one Englishman traveling through Germany or Italy, there may safely be recorded ten Americans. Hotel registers and watering-place lists show it. In Rome and Florence the Americans buy annually more copies of works of art than all the other foreign visitors put together. In Vienna, which used to be a pet haunt of wealthy and debonnaire Englishmen, the cheerful, comfortable hotels over which Britannia used to reign have gone over to the camp of the American, and the very head waiters, though natives of Larchenfeld, speak German-English with a Yankee twang. Paris is an American colony, and a correspondent goes so far as to suggest that they will succeed in improving the foreigner off the face of the Continent.

MOTHERS, BEWARE OF OPIUM.

BROWN'S NURSERY CORDIAL.

The only Infant Remedy that contains no Opium.

Every mother in the land can now feel confident that there is a remedy for her suffering infant that is in no way injurious, but a positive benefit, as it softens the gums, allays inflammation and acts as a tonic upon the stomach and bowels. For infants suffering with diarrhœa, wind colic, flatulency, restlessness and kindred complaints, it is a speedy and safe remedy, and other infant preparations contain opium and are not safe. Mothers, give this a trial. Sold by all druggists and by

SAVE THEM.

Do not miss the occasion of saving your teeth while you may yet have a chance. Once lost they can never be replaced as nature originally fitted them for you. A liberal use of WARD'S FLUID AND POWDERED DENTIFRICE will preserve the teeth, harden the gums and give you a sweet breath.
Sold Wholesale and Retail by JOSEPH FLEMING, No. 84 Market street, and all Druggists.

PAIN

Is a real thing and no phantasy. What is more excruciating than the misery of a toothache or an earache, too often proceeding from a neglected grinder that might have been kept perfect if the victim had have used WARD'S FLUID AND POWDERED DENTIFRICE.
Sold Wholesale and Retail by JOSEPH FLEMING, No. 84 Market street, and all Druggists.

RUINS.

We scarcely pick up a paper in which the eye does not meet with this heading—the ruins of Pompeii, Nineveh, or some other monument of the past. And how little do we think that every day there is decay leading to ruin rapidly progressing around us. The ruin of a fine set of teeth is to its owner a great loss, but one that can be prevented by a free use of WARD'S FLUID AND POWDERED DENTIFRICE.

ONWARD, RIGHT ONWARD,
Into the valley of death,
Rode the six hundred,
But larger, by hundreds multiplied into millions, than the doomed band who rode to swift destruction in Tennyson's poem, is the great cavalcade of unhappy beings who are riding into misery, worse than death, hugging that fearful disease FEVER AND AGUE, when by the use of
MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS,
They might, each one, be forever relieved from it, and their physical organization become thoroughly improved by means of a purified blood and healthy condition of the stomach. The legitimate result of using Mishler's Celebrated Herb Bitters,
Is to ward off Fever and Ague when it is likely to make its appearance, and to effect a radical cure in cases where it has already gained a foothold. It makes no difference how long the victim of this disease has suffered from it, nor how violent the disease itself may be, we are prepared to furnish indubitable evidence that
Mishler's Celebrated Herb Bitters
Will cure it. It is inevitable from the very nature of the medicine; hence there is no longer any need of suffering. Send to your nearest Druggist for these invaluable Bitters, they all sell them.

THE EMPEROR'S RESOLVE.

A Fragment of History.

(From the N. Y. Gazette.)

t ten o'clock in the forenoon, July 8, 1866, ancis Joseph I. received a brief telegram m Marshal Benedek, dated at his headquar- s in Koeniggraetz, informing him that a at and decisive battle was in progress. That s the laconic utterance of an old soldier, but few words boded well, and it is since known at the promise of the early forenoon was all at the Austrians could desire. All day long e Emperor waited impatiently for additional spatches, and none came. By some means e people in the streets had learned during e day that a battle was raging at Sadowa; and night drew on, and the artisans and trades- n were released from their labors, an im- nse throng collected before the low, jagged nt of the great old Burg, and not even the sence of scores gendarmes and palace guards uld entirely repress their noisy clamors. A ennese mob is only less demonstrative and rious than one in Paris.

Eight o'clock, and still no tidings from the nt. Half past eight, and nothing yet. The nperor could no longer conceal his impatience d anxiety. At last about nine o'clock, the ires began to click, and in a moment the op- ator handed his Majesty a dispatch. It was om Benedek. There were only three senten- s, and the last one was, "At first the army ll back in good order; but presently a panic ized them and then nothing could check their ght." It was dated at Hohenmauth. The nperor glanced at the map and his heart sank ithin him. Forty miles to the rear since the iddle of the forenoon! The future historian, ith all his eloquence, will not paint the battle f Sadowa more graphically than did Marshal enedek in that one sentence and that one ate.

All that night the Emperor passed in pacing ack and forth by the operator, who sat in his ttle cabinet receiving and inditing dispatches Paris. All through its long, weary hours e battery clicked without intermission. If e Emperor sat down it would only be for a oment. About six o'clock in the morning he ntered his carriage and drove out to Schonbrum ut before he left the Burg he caused a telegram be sent to the Archduke Albert, in Verona, rdering him to set the South army under mo- on for Vienna. Two and a half millions of talians woke up that morning French citizens.

And northward the Southern army came as ast as the mighty trains could roll over the reat Semmering Pass. It is much the fashion o laugh at Austria for her terrapin style of arching; but Austria when goaded, can move ith the speed with which the unwieldy rhinoceros sometimes tartles and crushes its tormentors. One hun- red and sixty thousand men and their muni- ions thrown across a vast mountain pass in welve day is an achievment that may challenge omparison even here. It was a race for Vien- a; but the Prussians won. At last the anxious azers could see, first with their glasses, and hen with the naked eye, the long, dusty lines mong the hills across the Danube, and when he sun shone, the bright gleam of their hem- ets. The men ran to and fro in the streets, he places of business were closed, and wagon fter wagon, loaded with silver and gold and rchives, drove rapidly away from the Burg to he Pesth depot. The Governments closed the teeples to the public, and no newspaper spoke bove a whisper. Then the consternation be- ame greater, because men no longer knew hat was near. Day and night without inter- nission long trains thundered in from the outh, crowded with eager soldiers, and went ack empty: and hour after hour long trains olled away toward Pesth, equally crowded vith civilians and their treasures. At night, vhen the city was stillest, the long rolling rum- le of the Prussian cannon began to be heard in he streets, and the low jar of a window would tartle the sleepers from their uneasy slumbers, vhen they would hasten to look out upon the treets, expecting to see the dreaded Pickelhaub-ns glittering in the gaslight.

Then came another night when the inmates f the old Burg were sleepless, and were driven y a wild unrest. The telegraph to Paris was ilent, for the "Man on the Seine" was con- ounded. In the Emperor's little cabinet, at three persons, himself, the Empress, and Count Mensdorff, Minister of Foreign Affairs. They sought to persuade him to go down to Pesth and throw himself upon the Magyars, s Maria Theresa had done. His haughty Haps- urg soul shrank from the humiliation, and hey pleaded in vain. For eighteen years he ad trodden on their dearest rights, and in that bitter hour it all came through into his mem- ry. Now he was weak and they were strong. t was useless to threaten, and, could a Haps- urgh beg? beg of the people he had wronged o deeply?

For hours had his faithful advisers by turns easoned besought, and expostulated with him, ut he remained immovable. Sometimes he vould pace rapidly back and forth, apparently earing nothing that was said, then stop for moment and listen impassively to their words, which he would presently interrupt by a gesture r utterance of impatience. At another time e would stamp upon the floor, declaring he vas betrayed and deserted, that his best friends vere seeking to procure his humiliation, and hat he would put himself at the head of his gal- ant army, and lead it to the victory and the lory that treachery had robbed it of.

At last all were exhausted, and he sat for a noment in silence. The Emperor's vascillat- ng mind was struggling with itself. The still- ess was broken by the great clock on the Church of the Capuchins, which struck the our of three. The emperor suddenly rose and went to the window. He stood and gazed long upon the sleeping city; within ear-shot of him were sleeping a fitful slumber more than 700,- 000 human beings—for Vienna was crowded with refugees—and in the bright green waters of the Danube twinkled the wan and flickering camp fires of 300,000 men at arms, encamped along its banks. The destiny of all these and millions more lay in his hands. Whether in his supreme hour he rose to the height of this great thought God only knows, but "the angels of his better nature" touched his heart strings and they gave worthy response. Turning quick- ly about, with a smile on his lip, and ad- dressing his wife "Ich gete." (I will go.) It was the greatest victory ever won by a Hapsburg, because a victory over himself.

He went. At Often he met the haughty chiefs of the Magyars, and in a few words told them his sad tale, and besought them to help him. He pleaded with such earnestness that the tears stood in his eyes. What a spectacle was that! A Hapsburg weeping before the people he had wronged. Happy for Francis Joseph that he permitted thus to atone with tears the crimes against liberty that cost his brother his blood! Every tear chrushed out some odious memory of the past—was a bond given to the liberty of Hungary. The Magyars were satisfied, but not enthusiastic. They higgled and echaffered and drove bargains with their repentant sovereign. It was the old, old bargain assigned, and the Magyars were as good as their word, and sent their volunteers to Vienna. Fortunately for both, the "Man on the Seine" had sufficiently recovered his balance to be able to avert further bloodshed about Vienna.

A Mechanical Horse that Beats Dexter's Best Time.

The following description of a new invention now on exhibition at the great "show" in Paris, we clip from a private letter:

"I was fortunate enough to be present yester- day evening at a private view of this wonderful invention. The throng at the exposition is so dense in the daytime that any attempt to work it during the exibition hours was impossible. Through the kindness of M. de M., whose ac- quaintance I made in 1858, when he was attache at Washington, I formed one of fifty persons provided with special permits. On entering groups of the Cent Gardes made me think the Emperor was present, but I did not see him un- til the middle of the exhibition. I saw, among the curious, Nasmyth of hammer celebrity, and Whitworth, arm in arm with Howe of sewing machine notoriety.

"The iron horse bears no resemblance to its equine namesake. Imagine a trunk shaped box about seven feet long, and wide enough for a man to saddle, and about five feet high; the whole concern mounted on five wheels; the wheels concealed, however, under the machine. It is covered with leather, and has a saddle, only the saddle is very high in front and back, so that there is no chance of being unhorsed. In front is a steering apparatus of the simplest kind—two silk cords—and just before the sad- dle is a steel bar, which regulates the speed. If you pull it up you start the machine; pull it higher up, you increase the speed; if you de- press it you decrease it until a point is reached, when the apparatus stops.

"The inventor, quite a young man, com- menced winding up the machine with what seemed to me to be a crank motion, and as I distinctly heard the clink of the ratchet, I there- fore supposed it was worked by a coiled spring, but I have reasons since to think I was mistak- en. I suppose it took two minutes to wind it, when he mounted it and started it by pulling up the steel bar. It moves gradually off, so that for the first minute I could walk alongside of it, but presently it started at the speed of a fast horse, and in a moment more was lost going round the curve of the circle.

"I suppose you know the grand exposition is a series of concentric rings, each one devoted to a peculiar branch of industry. The one the machine was running on was the Numero Quatre section del Mecaniques, and is among the largest, measuring some yards more than an English mile. It seemed to me to be incredi- ble that he should have performed the circuit in two minutes and twelve seconds. A hearty clapping of hands greeted the machine as it came careering on, and gradually stopping without any apparent trouble.

"I noticed the Emperor, generally taciturn, loud in his applause, clapping his hands as lus- tily as I did, and I was assured by M. de M., that he had never seen his majesty on any oc- casion before show the least signs of commen- dation. The inventor then said that he would put it to its speed, but to do this he must give the machine a start. He then wheeled round, and just like a jockey starting a horse, got it up to a maximum; and as he passed us he seemed to be flying. The circuit was made in fifty-eight seconds. A new salvo of applause met him as he brought the machine to where the Emperor was standing, and I must say that I felt some just emotion when the Emperor took the legion of honor from his button-hole and placed it on the young inventor's breast.

"M. told me that its endurance, if I may use the term, was extraordinary; that at its highest speed it would keep going on for four hours. I was led to believe that the mechanical power was secondary in it, and that a galvanic battery was the real motive power. Anyhow the secret is well kept, the Emperor having, with the inven- tor, the only knowledge of it. M. also told me that in Vincennes, a battery of artillery was to be moved with it, instead of horses.

"I may add that I saw four persons mount it, and it moved much more rapidly than would a carriage. An interesting experiment was made as to its capabilities of going over rough coun- try. Several loads of dirt were shot over the floor, and it passed over it with apparent ease. One thing that I remarked was that there was a perpendicular play in the wheels, and that as a difficulty was surmounted, one wheel would be higher than the other, whilst the body was on the same plane.

"I think that it has been placed purposely in a retired part of the exposition before this exhi- bition, so as not to attract too much attention, and I learn this morning that the Secretary of War has had it removed from the exposition.

"The inventor's name is Victor de Nardea."

CAUTION.—We call attention to the fact that imitations of our fine ELECTRO-PLATE, consisting of Dinner, Dessert Tea Services, etc., are extensively produced by American manufacturers; also, that there are English imitations in market, both of inferior quality. These goods are offered for sale by many dealers, and are well calculated to deceive. Purchasers can only detect and avoid coun- terfeits by noting our trade-mark thus:

Trade Mark for Electro-Plate. GORHAM MFG CO. Stamped on base of every article.

Our goods, which can be obtained from all respon- sible dealers, bear this stamp. They are heavily plated on the finest Albata or Nickel Silver, and we guarantee them in every respect superior to the best Sheffield plate. SWORD'S
Self Tempering Steam Power
BRICK MACHINE,
MANUFACTURED BY THE
PITTSBURGH BRICK MACHINE
AND
BRICK MANUFACTURING CO.
This Machine takes the clay direct from the bank, (without the preparation, by soaking, necessary for "soft mud" machines), and tempers it thoroughly, pressing, in steel moulds, brick stiff enough to be packed up eight high in the yard as made. For cut- ting with the trowel, bearing hard usage, and making a strong, true wall, there are no better brick known. The cost of making them by this machine is from 95 cents to $1 10 per 1,000, according to the rates of wages. This we guarantee. The machine is built entirely of iron and steel; and in the best style for strength and permanent use in working clay. Apply for circulars, giving full information, at the office,

CITY MATTERS.

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—A regular monthly meeting of the County Agricultural Society will be held to-morrow morning, (Wednesday,) at the office of Messrs. Phelps, Parke & Co., St. Clair street.

NUMBERING HOUSES.—The houses on the various streets of Manchester are having numbers placed upon them by order of the Councils of Allegheny. This improvement will be appreciated by the residents of that district.

TEMPERANCE LEAGUE.—A meeting of the Allegheny Temperance League will be held this evening in Rev. Dr. Clark's Church, corner of Sandusky street and Stockton avenue. Several prominent advocates of temperance will be present and deliver addresses.

PERSONAL.—Rev. Herrick Johnson, formerly Pastor of the Third Presbyterian church of this city has received a unanimous call from the First U. S. Presbyterian church of Philadelphia, the present Pastor, Rev. Alfred Barnes, having resigned.

RAIN AT LAST.—After a drought of unusual length, which has had a damaging effect, we have promise of a rainy spell at last. The quantity of rain which fell yesterday was not large, but the indications are that the "wet spell" will continue for a day or two at least.

THE NEW MILITARY COMPANY.—The meeting for the permanent organization of the new military company started in Allegheny by J. C. Martin, which was to have been held last night, has been postponed until to-morrow night, at the Soldiers' League Rooms. All interested in the movement are invited to be present.

SNEAK THIEVING.—The house of Mr. Chas. Faynson, on Penn street, in the Fifth Ward, was entered a night or two since by some thieves, while the family were at supper, and the whole upper apartments of the house ransacked, and a large quantity of fine wearing apparel and other articles of value stolen.

SECOND WARD REPUBLICANS.—There will be a meeting of the Republicans of the Second Ward, Pittsburgh, at their rooms, No. 65 Smithfield street, this evening, at half past seven o'clock. Every Republican is urged to attend, as the business to be transacted will interest all.

THE MAYORALTY.—A correspondent of the Gazette nominates Colonel W. A. Herron for the Mayoralty, and says: "His courteous manners, integrity, liberal public spirit, and acknowledged administrative power, all point him out as eminently qualified to fill this place of honor and trust to the satisfaction of the people."

PRESENTATION.—The members of the Union Temple of Honor, No. 28, on Friday evening last visited the Evening Star Temple, in a body, and presented the latter lodge with a splendid ivory gavel. The presentation speech was made by James McCandless, Esq., and the gift was received by W. C. T., George Irwin, on behalf of the Evening Star.

HOME AGAIN.—Mr. John Leitch, carpenter, and wife, of Allegheny, who have been absent in Scotland, for some months, have returned. Mrs. L. had been in very delicate health previous to her trip, was much improved while she remained in Scotland, but was quite ill on the voyage home. Although somewhat improved, her health has not been restored.

MUD.—The sidewalks in the city was very filthy yesterday. The rain was not heavy enough to wash the pavements, and a heavy coating of nasty, slimy mud was the result. When will our people learn to cleanse their side walks? There is an ordinance requiring them to do it, but it has lain as a nulity so long that we must regard it as obsolete.

UNITED STATES TAXES.—Manufacturers generally have a certain internal revenue tax to pay monthly. A few days only remain wherein they can settle for the month now due. We advise them to not forget this, as we understand the Collector of the District is directed to impose the penalty on all who are in default after the prescribed day of payment.

THE NUT CROP.—The dry weather of the past two months has curtailed the crop of nuts in this vicinity. The hickory and walnut crops are light, while chestnuts, acorns, beech nuts, etc., are almost a failure. The nut eating animals of the forest will doubtless be short of supplies this winter, and in their extremity will no doubt visit the barns, corn cribs, granaries, etc., of our farmers.

WAIVED A HEARING.—John Carr, charged with felonious assault and battery, in the stabbing of J. B. O'Neill, in McClure township, about ten days ago, was brought before Mayor Morrison, of Allegheny, yesterday, for a hearing. The accused waived a hearing, and entered bail for trial. Mr. O'Neill is rapidly recovering from the wounds inflicted upon him, and, it is expected, will be able to be about again in a few days.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—The Evening Star Temple of Honor, No. 59, at their meeting held on Friday evening last, elected the following officers to serve for the ensuing term: W. C. T., John B. Jones; W. V. T., Alexander Newlon; W. R., James P. Marshall; W. A. R., Wm. J. Sterling; W. F. R., J. P. Riggs; W. T., Samuel Ellison; W. U., E. S. Pollock; W. D. U., John A. Garey; W. G., Thos. Johnston; W. S., J. W. Reynolds; W. C., J. B. Bennett.

CITY ASH CART.—Some enterprising gentleman has started a city ash cart. It is a light vehicle, neatly gotten up, and can be run into all the alleys and by-ways. The object is to remove all accumulations of ashes, weekly or oftener, at a very small cost to each person. The idea is a capital one, and we hope everybody will patronize the city ash cart—especially those who have been in the habit of depositing large and unsightly piles in the alleys and on the streets.

CONDITION IMPROVED.—We made mention in yesterday's issue that a country woman had been seriously injured on Friday night, by falling through the trestle work of the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, in Allegheny. The lady's name is Mrs. Rachel Bryant, wife of James C. Bryant, of Shaler township. She has been removed to the house of an acquaintance, on Morgan street, where she is receiving medical attention. Her condition was much improved yesterday, and her recovery is confidently expected.

HELD FOR TRIAL.—Wm. Moore and George Walters, the young men arrested last week on suspicion of robbing the gun shop of Mr. Houck, corner of Penn and Wayne streets, had a hearing yesterday, before the Mayor, which resulted in the defendants being committed, in default of $500 each, for trial. Moore was also accused of stealing a lot of tools from a carpenter shop in the Sixth ward. The tools were found in a house near the shop, and Moore endeavored to secure them by representing that he was a police officer. He did not deny the charge and another commitment was lodged against him.

AN INCORRIGIBLE BOY.—A German boy aged about fifteen years, named Kleindeinst, was arrested yesterday by the Allegheny police, for incorrigibility, at the instigation of his father, who resides on Carpenter's alley, in the Fourth ward of that city. The father states that the boy has been incorrigible for some time past, going away and staying from home, and when he is at home refusing to obey his parents. The lad was sent to the House of Refuge some time ago by his father, for incorrigibility, but was released upon promising to do better in the future. He does not seem to have improved much, however, and he will probably be sent back to his former quarters.

BRICK MAKING MATCH.—An exciting brick-making match came off on Saturday last at Coward's brick-yards, on Boyd's Hill. James Mack and John White, two expert brick molders, agreed to contest in a match of two hours and a half duration. They got to work together, and in two hours and twenty-eight minutes White turned out three thousand three hundred bricks, and in the full time (two minutes later) Mack had made sixty bricks less, thus losing the purse and match. This is wonderfully fast work, the making of three thousand bricks being considered a good day's work.

Success the Test of Merit.

Of all the standards for testing merit, none is more reliable than success. Success in art, in science, and in business of every nature implies merit, and the greater the success the more extraordinary the merit. These reflections are occasioned by witnessing the remarkable success attending the peculiar treatment of specific diseases by the eminent physician and surgeon, Dr. E. S. Aborn. A visit to his handsomely furnished apartments at No. 134 Smithfield street, the anti-room of which is filled almost constantly by patients, will furnish proof that his mode of treatment is not only popular, but that it is peculiarly efficacious. The Doctor's skill in getting speedily at the diagnosis of a disease, and the confident manner in which he treats his patients, unmistakably indicate that he is a scientific and experienced practitioner. His pretensions are backed by solid acquirements, and the volume of certificates of his skill, acquired during his short residence in this city of a little over one year, is sufficiently potential to prove him an able and accomplished physician and surgeon. Few if any men in his profession have been so uniformly successful in their practice. He has treated, with marked success, several obstinate cases of gentlemen connected with this office, whose testimony is already before the public, and may be relied upon. The testimony in favor of his mode of treatment for diseases of the eye, ear, catarrh and affections of the throat and chest, is so overwhelming that all that may follow will only be cumulative. His reputation here, where he intends to make his permanent residence, is sufficiently established, and it is extending rapidly to remote towns and cities, as is evidenced by the arrival of large numbers of patients from a distance. The testimonial of Hon. M. C. Beebe, printed on the fourth page to-day, is well worth the attention of all sufferers from catarrh and diseases of the air passages.

ERRONEOUS SENTENCES.

The Limit of an Imprisonment on a Charge of Larceny—Opinion by Judge Thompson.

A decision was made in the Supreme Court yesterday reversing, and setting aside the sentences in the case of Charley White and Wm. Doyle, of Erie county, imprisoned in the Western Penitentiary. A habeas corpus was issued directing Warden Campbell to bring the bodies of the above mentioned parties before the Court this morning.

The following is the opinion:

Where upon conviction for a crime of misdemeanor, an erroneous sentence has been entered by the Court, as for a longer imprisonment than the law prescribes, the Supreme Court, under the authority conferred by the act of the 16th of June, 1836, Sec. 1, will send for the prisoners and sentence them according to law.

Certiorari to the Court of Quarter Sessions of Erie county: J. Ross Thompson for White and Doyle, and Charles M. Lynch, District Attorney, for the Commonwealth.

The opinion of the Court was delivered by Thompson, J.—The indictments on which the plaintiffs in error were tried and found guilty were for larceny, but the sentences pronounced were for burglary and larceny, four years and six months in each case in the Western Penitentiary. The extent or limit of imprisonment on a conviction of larceny is three years; there was, therefore, an excess of one year and six months imposed in each of these cases beyond what the statute allows. The minute docket upon which the indictment appears erroneously entered as for burglary, undoubtedly misled the learned Judge, who took it as correct without adverting to the indictment. The sentences being erroneous must be reversed, and we will send for the prisoners and sentence them according to law, as we have full authority for doing in a case of this kind by the act of June, 1836, section one, which is nearly a transcript of the act of 1722, defining the powers of this Court.

And now, to-wit: October 28, 1867; the sentence in the case of Charles White and Wm. Doyle, the plaintiffs in error above named, are reversed and set aside, and it is ordered that a habeas corpus in the name of the Commonwealth, issue to Dr. H. Campbell, Warden of the Penitentiary, to bring before the Court now in session in the city of Pittsburgh, the bodies of the said Charles White and William Doyle, to-morrow at ten o'clock A. M., with the commitment or cause of detention in each case, to be dealt with according to law—Per Curiam.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

SUPREME COURT.

Court met at ten o'clock yesterday morning, present all the Judges except Chief Justice Woodward.

Charley White and Wm. Doyle vs. The Commonwealth: Erie County, sentences reversed and set aside, and habeas corpus ordered to be reversed to Dr. Campbell, Warden of the Western Penitentiary, to bring before the Court the bodies of White and Doyle at ten A. M. to-day, with commitment or cause of detention in each case, to be dealt with according to law. Opinion by Thompson J.

Grove vs. Hodges: Huntington County, Middle District, argued by Joshua W. Crowley, and John S. Miles for plaintiff in error, and John Scott and R. Breed Petrican contra.

The list for Westmoreland, Armstrong, Indiana, and Columbia was called over.

The following cases were non-prossed: Wentlings, administrator, vs. Irwin, Westmoreland; Cooper & Co., vs. Wike et al, Cambridge; McColgan vs. Myers, Cambria.

The following opinions were delivered:

By Thompson, J., Jefferson county vs. Reitz. Judgment affirmed. Hunter vs. Pettis, Crawford county. Judgment affirmed. Cleveland vs. Farran, Erie. Judgment affirmed.

By Strong, J., Stevens's appeal, Jefferson. Decree affirmed at applicant's cost. Seigel et al, vs. Robinson, Erie. Judgment affirmed. Hart & Wright vs. Borough of Girard, Erie. Judgment reversed, and venire de novo awarded. Venango National Bank vs. Taylor. Judgment reversed and judgment entered for the plaintiff for the sum of $350 24, according to the case stated.

By Read, J.: Erie Gas Company vs. Haverstick. Affirmed.

By Agnew, J.: Thompson vs. Clark. Judgment reversed and a procedendo awarded. Yates vs. Meadville borough, Crawford. Judgment reversed and a procedendo awarded.

CRIMINAL COURT—JUDGES STERRETT AND STOWE.

Court met at the usual hour yesterday morning, when the following business was transacted:

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Fanny Splane, indicted for keeping a bawdy house on Miltenberger's alley, reported on trial Saturday, was concluded. Several witnesses were examined on the part of the defense, among them several persons who resided in the neighborhood of defendant's house. They stated substantially that they had seen no improper conduct about the house. The jury found a verdict of guilty.

TROUBLE ABOUT A LINE-FENCE—CROSS-SUITS.

Zacheus Scott, Jr., and George Dawson were placed on trial on an indictment charging them with assault and battery, on oath of Robert Douglas. A cross-suit was also commenced by the defendants, and both cases were tried at the same time.

It appeared from the testimony that the parties are farmers, residing in Elizabeth township, upon adjoining farms. Some time in May last they had a difficulty about a board fence which separated their farms. Each claimed the fence as his own, Douglass because he owned the field on which it was constructed, and Mr. Scott because he built the fence. It was alleged by Mr. Douglass that on the morning of the assault the Scotts and Dawson were fixing a gap in the fence, and he went down and ordered them to desist. They refused, and he attempted to tear down the fence they had put up, when they assaulted him, injuring him so severely that he has not yet wholly recovered from the effect of his injuries. Both his eyes were closed and one of them impaired to such an extent that a medical gentleman who attended him expressed the opinion that it would never regain its strength.

Mr. Scott, Jr., testified that he attempted to reason with Mr. Douglass, and did not strike him until obliged to do so in self-defense. It was also alleged that James Douglass, a brother of Robert, was engaged in the assault. The jury found a verdict of guilty as to Scott and Dawson, and not guilty in the cases where the Douglasses were the defendants, the prosecutors, Scott, to pay the costs.

David Martin, Mary Martin, and Robert Baldwin alias Robert McGonigle, were placed on trial on an indictment charging them with keeping a disorderly house, where fortune telling, gambling and drinking were carried on.

Officer John Stemler, prosecuting witness, was sworn and stated that he arrested the parties, and Baldwin was a negro. At the time he made the arrest the defendant was telling fortunes by cutting cards. The arrest was made in consequence of frequent complaints of the neighbors. The defendants reside in South Pittsburgh.

J. Reynolds, who resided in the same house, testified that he and Mr. Isted had their fortunes told, but never he believed had paid any money. Case on trial.

Court adjourned to meet at ten o'clock this morning.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—JUDGE M'CANDLESS.

The O'Hara bankruptcy case is still on trial, and will occupy the attention of the Court to-day.

COMMON PLEAS—BEFORE JUDGE MELLON.

Court met at the usual hour yesterday morning, but as there was no person ready for trial, the Court adjourned.

Postoffice Robbery—Further Developments—Young Black Committed for Trial.

Captain W. M. Dalgleish appeared before United States Commissioner S. C. McCandless yesterday, and made an information against Robert A. Black, who was arrested on Sunday night, charged with robbing the lock boxes in the Pittsburgh Postoffice. Young Black was taken out of the lock-up and brought before the Commissioner for a hearing. Captain Dalgleish and officer McCoy, of the special police force, were examined, but their evidence was substantially the same as that published in the COMMERCIAL yesterday. It appears that after Black had been taken Sunday night by officer McCoy to the lock-up on company with Lieutenant Wiley, the latter in company visited Reineman's Court, in Virgin alley, where the accused was arrested, and recovered seven more letters, which he had thrown away in his flight. Some of these letters were addressed to C. Yeager & Co., variety dealers, and others to R. Robinson & Co., grocers, of Liberty street. A man residing in Reineman's Court found three other letters yesterday morning, and a letter carrier also found two bunches of keys which are supposed to belong to Black. One bunch was found on Virgin alley. It is supposed that he threw away the keys while he was being pursued by the officers. The hearing before the Commissioner resulted in the accused being committed to the County jail, in default of five thousand dollars bail, for trial at the special term of the United States District Court, to be held in January next.

Base Ball.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF BEAVER COUNTY.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

ROCHESTER, PA., October 28, 1867.

A match game of base ball, for the championship of Beaver county, was played on Saturday last, between the "Rough and Ready," of Beaver, and the Young America," of Rochester, on the grounds of the latter, which resulted in the success of the Beaver club. The game on Saturday was one of a series of games—the second played by these clubs. The former one was won by the "Rough and Ready" boys, the score standing—"Rough and Ready," 30; "Young America," 26. The last game was brought to a close while playing the fourth inning, on account of the "Young America" club disputing the decision of the Umpire, who was chosen by themselves. The Umpire very properly resigned his place and terminated the game. The score at the end of the third inning stood as follows:

ROUGH AND READY.	O.	R.	YOUNG AMERICA.	O.	R.
Achinson, c	0	3	Broback, c	0	1
McLean D., p	1	2	Campbell, p	1	1
Hall T., s. s	1	2	Nolen, s. s	1	0
Hall C., 1st b	1	2	Hurst, 1st b	2	0

McLean P., l. f	2	1	Clair, l. f	1	0
Austin, c. f	1	2	Merriman, c. f	2	0
Thomas G., r. f	1	2	McDonald, r. f	1	0
Total	9	18	Total	9	3

Fly Catches—Rough and Ready, 2; Young America, 2.
Missed Flys—Rough and Ready, 1; Young America, 4.
Home Runs—Rough and Ready, 2; Young America, 0.
Scorers—S. J. Boyd, for Rough and Ready; — for Young America.
Umpire—George Hemphill, of Rochester, Pa.

MATCH GAME AT BRADY'S BEND.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

BRADY'S BEND, PA., October 28, 1867.

There was a match game of base ball played here on Saturday last between the Alert Club, of this place, and the Active Club, of Kittanning, resulting in the success of the former, by a score of ninety-nine runs to thirty-nine. The game was called at the seventh inning on account of the darkness, having occupied three hours and a half.

LOST.—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Messrs. Wightman & Anderson in another column, relating to the loss of certain bonds and note to the amount of $22,000. They were lost some time yesterday morning from the side pocket of a member of the firm, some where between McClurg & Bro.'s livery stable, on Smithfield street, and the Citizens' National Bank, corner Diamond alley and Wood street, along Diamond alley. Payment of the bonds and note has been stopped, and the papers are therefore of no value to any person who may find them. It is to be hoped that the finder will promptly return them to Messrs. Wightman & Anderson, or their attorneys, Messrs. S. A. & W. S. Purviance, 116 Fifth street.

STREET CLEANING.—A force of workmen were engaged yesterday cleaning Federal street, Allegheny, and that thoroughfare is beginning to present a more cleanly appearance.

THE EXCITEMENTS WHICH ARE CONSTANTLY exercising the public mind are various, and by common consent the greatest is produced by those matchless merchant tailors, Messrs. H. Oppenheimer & Co., No. 83 Wood street. They have just opened their new stock of tailoring and gents' furnishing goods, and we are told by those who have examined it that Oppenheimer takes the lead as usual.

Medical and Surgical Treatment.

A new method of treating diseases of the air passages. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Center Avenue Residence at Auction.

This Tuesday, October 29th, at half-past two o'clock, P. M., on the premises, will be sold the desirable residence and grounds of Captain George D. Moore, No. 132 Center avenue. This property should attract the attention of persons desiring a neat and comfortable home in an excellent neighborhood, and so convenient to business. After the above, will be sold a small brick cottage on De Villiers street; lot 48 feet front by 94 feet deep; and in rear of this two vacant lots, 24 feet front each by 94 feet deep to a twenty-foot alley. Smithson, Palmer & Co., Auctioneers.

Academy of Music.

The sale of reserved seats for Miss Caroline McCaffrey's concerts commenced yesterday morning, and from the large number sold we feel confident Miss McCaffrey will be greeted by crowded houses. The sale will be resumed at 9 o'clock this morning at C. C. Mellor's Music Store, No. 81 Wood street. Some desirable seats still remain unsold, and as there is no extra charge we would advise all who have not yet secured seats to do so without delay. These concerts will certainly be the finest musical treat of the season, and no lover of music should fail to attend them.

Evergreen Hamlet.

On Wednesday evening, October 30th, at 8 o'clock, at Masonic Hall Auction Rooms, 55 and 57 Fifth street, will be sold the beautiful residence and grounds of R. E. Sellers, Esq., at Evergreen Hamlet. See advertisement in auction column of Smithson, Palmer & Co., Auctioneers.

Wet Weather Goods.

At the Mammoth Emporium 55 and 57 Fifth street, a large assortment of boots and shoes, gum overs, gum boots, gum blankets, gum over coats, gum pants, &c., cheaper than elsewhere. See our goods before you make your purchases.

THE attention of parties wishing to purchase a neat and comfortable dwelling in Allegheny City, convenient to business and fine location, is directed to advertisement of John D. Bailey, who will sell at auction this (Tuesday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock, that desirable two-story dwelling, No. 216 Lacock street.

Edgewood Station—Auction Sale of Country Dwellings and Building Lots.

At Edgewood Station, on the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, on Thursday, October 31st. Parties desiring to attend this attractive sale can take the 9:50 and 11:30 A. M., train, thereby giving themselves sufficient time to make a thorough examination of the various lots, the sale of which will commence at two o'clock P. M. The situation is a delightful one—just outside the consolidated city—and within half a mile of Wilkinsburg, and any purchases here in the way of lots or buildings will most assuredly pay well as an investment. Further particulars of advertisement in our auction column. Plan can be seen at office of Smithson, Palmer & Co., Auctioneers, 55 and 57 Fifth street.

SEVEN HOUSES AND LOTS AT AUCTION.—On Wednesday, October 30th, at 2 o'clock P. M., on the premises, on Bellefontaine street, near Greensburg Pike, Lawrenceville. Also, immediately after above, will be sold two vacant lots, each 20 feet front by 100 feet in depth, on Greensburg Pike, nearly opposite Cemetery gate. Terms, one-third cash; balance in two equal annual payments.

Malaria Everywhere.

Rarely has there been a season as fruitful as this of malarious diseases. Not only on the prairies and in the valleys of the West; not merely in all the old haunts of Fever and Ague and Billous Remittent Fever have these prostrating diseases been unusually virulent; but they have extended to towns and cities never before infested with them, and have even ascended the mountains and attacked thousands of people supposed to have been placed by the laws of Nature, above their reach. Hence we are compelled to admit that a fatal element pervades the Universal air this season, and should at once resort to the only approved preventive of its consequences, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a tonic so potent, an anti-septic so perfect, an alterative so irresistible, and a stimulant so pure that it enables the human system to resist and baffle all the predisposing causes of disease. With the confidence that one clothed in incombustible garments might move among blazing buildings, the man who arms himself against malaria with this powerful defensive medicine may walk a fever-scourged district fearless of its insalubrious atmosphere. The intermittents and remittents at present so general in all parts of the country may be but the forerunners of a deadlier scourge now on its way westward from the far East. Prepare the system with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS for a successful battle with the mephitic causes of all epidemics. Be wise in time.

DIED:

RAYNOR—On Monday morning, October 28th, at 4 o'clock, HARRY LOBINE, eldest son of George and Jane Raynor, aged three years and four months.

The funeral will take place from the residence of his parents, No. 188 Beaver street, Allegheny, THIS MORNING, at 10 o'clock. The friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.

TESTIMONIAL FROM Hon. M. C. Beebe, OF Pleasantville, Crawford Co., Pa.

Dr. Aborn, No. 134 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

Dear Sir—Some five years ago my son Willie commenced showing symptoms of catarrh of the head, which continued to grow worse until his system was so debilitated as to preclude an active enjoyment of the sports of childhood or pursue any system of study, or attend at school, and at times was entirely prostrated with lingering fever—some times, for weeks together, with a constant manifestation of the symptoms of the disease, such as a constant hacking, nostril discharges, &c., irritation of the throat, &c., causing nausea. All the usual appliances and treatment of physicians, etc., had failed to afford relief until you were applied to during your professional visit at Titusville last winter, when he began to improve immediately after commencing your treatment, and continued to improve until now he enjoys a good state of health, and is able to participate in the active sports of childhood with zest, as well as pursue his studies without interruption. I have omitted to make this statement heretofore, as I wished to be satisfied that the relief was permanent.

Respectfully yours,
M. C. BEEBE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

MONDAY EVENING, October 28, 1867.

There are many features in the Bankrupt Law which, in their application to the business transactions that are common to every day operations, are being developed, and as they are brought out show a very different position of the creditor to the debtor than existed previous to the law becoming effective. A correspondent of one of the Eastern dailies, writes: "The recent failures in Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, have called the attention of business men to the provisions of the United States Bankrupt Law. In olden times borrowed money was considered a confidential debt, and by general consent was allowed to be paid back, with interest, before any dividend was made upon other debts."

Now, under the provisions of the Bankrupt law, a creditor for money lent stands upon the same footing as any other creditor; and the man that lends his neighbor a thousand dollars to-day, should the borrower become insolvent to-morrow, finds himself a common creditor, not entitled to preference, and can take only a pro rata share of the insolvent's assets. Without disputing the equity and justice of this provision, business men perceive the necessity of protecting themselves from loss when they make cash loans, by taking such security as will make them safe in such a contingency. It is said that the Bankrupt law of the State of Massachusetts, which has been in operation for several years, has in it the same provision; and in Boston, and other commercial cities of that State, a person who wishes to borrow money from his neighbor, even for a few days, brings his bills receivable, or other collaterals, to leave as a pledge for its return; and it would be thought strange, and excite suspicion, if he should neglect to do so. As the law now stands, (all over the United States,) it is evident that there is no other safe way in lending money; for, however desirous the borrower may be of returning it, where there is no collateral, he cannot do so if his other creditors compel him to come under the provisions of the Bankrupt law. In dealing with a bank or a broker, no one expects to get money without giving security for its return: why then should a merchant be expected to loan his money without security? And it behooves the lenders of money to be certain that the collaterals they receive are certainly available in their hands as security. Bills receivable, and coupon bonds are pledges that cannot be questioned in the hands of the holders. But it is certain that a certificate of stock, with power of attorney to transfer, may be no security at all; for in case the borrower should fail, being indebted to the institution whose stock he has pledged, the institution would refuse to permit a transfer under the power, until its own claim is paid in full; and the person holding such certificate and power, would find himself in no better condition than that of a common creditor. And some go so far as to say that even where the borrower is not indebted to the institution whose stock he has so pledged, a transfer under the power of attorney cannot now be legally made after the failure of the borrower: that if the stock at the time of the failure stands upon the books of the institution in the name of the borrower, it must be returned (under the Bankrupt act), as part of the assets of the insolvent, and the creditor who has lent the money come in, with all the other creditors, for a pro rata share of such assets. If this be correct, the only safety for those who lend money on such collaterals is in their having the stock transferred at once to their own names. The motto of one of our leading fincial periodicals is, that "favor and benevolence are not the attributes of good business, but integrity and the rigid performance of contracts are its proper foundation." A failure occurred a short time since in a neighboring city, of one supposed to be wealthy beyond contingency, from the fact that he appeared upon the books of the banks and other institutions, as the owner of large amounts of shares and loans, all of which, as it turned out, were hypothecated for as much as they were worth. He lived and flourished for years on his reputation for riches, being trusted accordingly; but in the end his common creditors did not realize a sixpence on the dollar! As before observed, the provisions of the Bankrupt act are now being carefully considered by business men, and a proper attention to them may save many from heavy losses.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, TUESDAY, October 29, 1867.

Business—The market yesterday came to a dead lock. For once we are without a single operation to record in crude or refined. This can all be attributed to the weather. The rain that set in on Monday morning continued all day, and from what we could learn was general along the Allegheny regions. Buyers of crude and refined made up their minds to hold off, inclining to the opinion that a rise in the Allegheny would be along before the close of the week. Of course sellers were willling to operate at Saturday's prices; buyers said no, we will wait. The weather is favorable for us. Dispatches from Oil City and the headwaters reported warm rains with every indication of a continuance. A new route for crude oil—Messrs. D. Bly & Co., one of our most enterprising firms of oil dealers, were in the receipt of the first lot of bulk oil, by a new route. It came direct from Franklin, starting on the Jamestown and Franklin Railroad, arriving here via the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad. The tanks being of iron, and got up in first rate style, painted red, and making a handsome appearance. The tanks hold about 45 bbls each. In our own market there was nothing done. We omit figures, as they would have no bearing on the market. The last sale we reported was spot oil, from tank, at 13@13½c ₱ gallon. The Eastern markets were quoted as follows: New York—Quiet; standard white 34½c; crude in bulk 14c; bbls included 20c. Philadelphia—Steady; standard white 34@34½c; crude, including bbls, 20c ₱ gallon. Oil City Dispatches say no sales; crude held at 20c.

REFINED OIL.—In this market buyers and sellers were apart in their views. We could not learn of a single operation for present or future delivery. The advantage of the market was on the side of buyers, who did not appear anxious to invest.

BOSTON.

The market is reported by the Bulletin as quiet, and at present a little depressed by a decline at the point of production, and an interruption of the export demand, owing to the advance in freights and a slight falling off in European quotations. But holders of refined oil, which are relatively low, are not disposed to concede upon the bonded article, and prices are without quotable change. There are many foreign orders yet to be filled, and shippers are again coming into the market at the close.

For free oil there is a steady consumptive demand; the trade are taking fair sized lots and, at this season, are obliged to come often for supplies. Our local refineries are fully employed, and prices are not likely to go lower in any event. At the wells, owing to the advance in railroad freights, prices of crude have declined to $2 75@3 00 ₱ bbl, but the cost of the article laid down here is about the same as before.

We quote crude petroleum quiet at 17@18c ₱ gallon, in bulk, and nominally 21@22c in barrels. Refined oil is unchanged, with sales at 32@35c ₱ gallon for bonded lots, and 43@48c in cans and cases for shipment to Southern latitudes. Free do. is in fair demand at 50@54c ₱ gallon for Western and Boston, and 55c for Downer's Kerosene. Naptha is selling at a range of 16@30c ₱ gallon, as to gravity. Residuum is nominal at $2 75@4 25 ₱ barrel.

NEW YORK.

The supply of crude is moderate, says the Commercial List, and, with a good demand from refiners, the market has ruled steady, and closes firm at 14¼@14½c in bulk. Sales 1,900 bbls, in bulk, at 14@14½c; 150 do, 15½c, pkgs returned; 2,480 do in shipping order, 20c; 2,500 do on private terms; and for November delivery, 1,000 do in bulk, 14½c; and 1,500 do first half of the month, 14¾c. Refined, in bond, for immediate delivery is very dull and closes weak at 33½c for S. W.; for November delivery there has been a fair demand, but the market closed weak and lower; sales 3,200 bbls S. W. and 50,000 gallons "Devoe's Brilliant" on private terms; 7,500 bbls S. W., for November at 34@35c, B. O.; and 100 do, December, 35c, B. O. Of free 100 bbls P. L. S. to W. sold at 49½c. Naptha is scarce and in good demand; sales 1,250 bbls at 18@20c; 250 bbls Gasoline, 71 gravity, brought 21c.

Oil City Oil Market.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.

OIL CITY, October 28, 1867.

The market for crude is quiet but steady, at $3 40@3 50 delivered at Oil City, with moderate demand; $3 15@3 20 on creek.

A steady drizzling rain is reported from all points along the river to-day, although less has fallen at its head waters than has fallen below. It is still raining and warm, and strong hopes are entertained of a first water. River now about six inches. L.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, MONDAY EVENING, October 28, 1867.

Business continues very quiet in nearly every branch of trade, and since our last report there has been no noticeable improvement. The want of river navigation is severely felt by all branches of trade, and, at the present writing, there is a fair prospect for an early resumption of navigation, as rains have been falling, and prospects are fair for an early rise. Flour is quiet, but prices of all grades are well sustained. Wheat continues scarce, and the receipts are inadequate to supply the mills. Provisions continue to maintain high rates, though the demand evidences a slight falling off. We have nothing new to note in groceries. The Iron Age says:

"We have to report a considerable, an unusual, depression in nearly all kinds of merchandise this week. Provisions, breadstuffs, groceries, dry goods, all share in this. A universal feeling of uncertainty and distrust seems to paralyze all active business. There is nothing in the political situation to cause unusual anxiety. There are few or no failures occurring. The crops are abundant, and the prices realized good beyond all precedent. The dangers which threaten the peace of Europe do not affect us, and yet the policy of caution and unrest, of which we speak pervades all circles. Many causes may combine to produce this state of things, but chiefly, we fancy, is the uncertainty as to the future financial policy of the Government. We believe Mr. McCulloch is availing himself of the power confided to him, and is withdrawing the four millions of greenbacks for the present month. We must deplore this policy which exhibits, we think, an entire misapprehension of the wise and safe course to be pursued, especially at a time when the demands of the West and South are naturally and necessarily much heavier than usual."

The receipts of some of the leading articles of produce per river and rail, since our last, were as follows: Flour 859 bbls; apples 554 bbls; cheese 275 boxes; corn 2,790 sacks; wheat 6,838 sacks; barley 720 sacks; rye 551 sacks; oats 1,313 sacks, and butter 48 packages.

We quote as follows, which are the wholesale store prices unless otherwise noted:

BUTTER—Receipts inadequate to supply the demand, at 35@40c for choice table. Medium sells at prices ranging from 25@30c ₱ lb.

EGGS—Receipts light and demand good at 26@28c ₱ dozen.

APPLE BUTTER—We note sales at 85c ₱ gallon.

BEANS—Sales reported of 36 bushels choice white beans at $4 60 ₱ bushel.

APPLES—Receipts large and prices lower. We quote prices ranging from $2 50@4 25 ₱ bbl. Sales reported of 1 car, on the track, at $3 25 ₱ bbl, and from store at $2 50@4 ₱ bbl.

POTATOES—Sales reported of choice Peachblow potatoes at $1 05 ₱ bush, and small lots at $1 10 ₱ bush. Sales of 30 bbls Jersey sweets reported at $3 75@4 ₱ bbl, and 14 bbls at $4 50 ₱ bbl.

BACON—Trade moderate at 23c for S C hams; 22c for plain S C hams, and 14½c for shoulders.

LARD—We quote lard at 14¾ to 14½c ₱ lb in kegs. Sales of country lard were made at 14½c ₱ lb.

MESS PORK—Dull at $23 50 ₱ bbl.

VENISON—We note the first arrival of the season of 4 carcasses, which sold at 18@20c ₱ lb. We have also reported sales of 6 saddles at 28@30c ₱ lb.

OATS—Sales reported from store of 500 bushels oats at 68c; 150 bush bush from depot at 68c, and 1,500 bush to arrive, at 65c ₱ bush. Also 98 sack at the depot at 66c ₱ bush.

RYE—The market is firm and prices advancing. We quote at $1 48@1 50 ₱ bush.

CORN—We quote shelled corn at $1 25 ₱ bush. Sales reported of 2 cars new ear at $1 00 ₱ bush, and sales from the depot at the same figure.

BARLEY—Sales reported at $1 30@1 35 ₱ bush.

WHEAT—Receipts light. We quote Red Winter, in demand, at the Mills, at $2 50@2 60 ₱ bushel, and white wheat at $2 66@2 70 ₱ bushel.

FLOUR—Demand moderate at $12 00@12 50 for the best winter wheat Flour, from store, and spring from $10 50@11 50 ₱ bbl. The City Mill prices are as follows:

	Barrels.	In Paper Sacks, ₱ bbl.	Retail, in bbls.
St Louis	$13 10	$12 80	$13 75
City Mills	12 30	12 00	13 00

Retail, white wheat, in sacks, $3 40, and red wheat flour $3 20 @ sack.

FEED—Mill prices for shorts, per hundred, wholesale, $1 60, and middlings $2 50 per hundred. The following are the Washington street mill prices: Corn meal, ₱ bushel, $1 35; chop corn and oats, ₱ hundred, $2 60; chop corn, ₱ hundred, $2 60, and corn bran, ₱ hundred, $1 50.

COAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, MONDAY, October 28, 1867.

On account of low water there is a large demand, per railroad, for coal for Western consumption. Pittsburgh coal is delivered on cars at Pittsburgh, for Western consumption, at the rate of $2 40 ₱ ton of 2,000 lbs, for lump, and $1 60 ₱ ton for nut. The demand in the city is brisk and prices unchanged. We quote lump delivered at 10c ₱ bush, and nut at 9c ₱ bush. By the car load—to dealers—prices are 7½c for lump, and 4½c ₱ bush for nut.

ANTHRACITE—The demand is steady at $9 00 ₱ ton in yard, and $9 50@10 00 delivered, according to distance from the yard. The Pennsylvania and Ohio Anthracite Company, of which Dickson, Stewart & Co., are agents in this city, and Charles Small, at East Liberty, are shipping large quantities West to Cincinnati, and other river cities. We notice that a very large demand for this kind of coal has lately arisen in this vicinity. Some of our enterprising and wealthy business men are laying in nearly their whole winter supply of it.

PHILADELPHIA.

We notice no material change in the coal trade during the past week. The demand for domestic sizes continues active, while for the large there appears to be little or no inquiry. Out of the large weekly production of coal only about one-fifth consists of stove. Very few collieries have capacity to furnish exceeding that proportion, and so long as this inactivity in the large sizes continues, there must be a scarcity of egg and stove in the market.

Shipments from Port Richmond both east and south are active, and we learn that no coal is at present accumulating upon the wharves. Coastwise freights during the week advanced about 10c ₱ ton, in consequence of the scarcity of vessels, and it is feared that, unless the supply should greatly improve between this and the close of the season, the highest point has not yet been reached.

Prices of coal continue unchanged and firm. Broad Top $4 ?@5 00; gas coal $8 00; white ash for eastern shipment, steamer and broken, $4 25; egg and stove, $4 50; Locust Mountain, steamer and broken, $4 00@4 10; egg and stove, $4 25@4 30; all stove, $4 40@4 50; red ash, egg and stove, $4 40@4 75, and Lykens Valley $5 25, as to quality, on board of vessel.

BOSTON.

The wholesale market, says the Bulletin, is quiet, especially for foreign descriptions and the larger sizes of anthracite. There is a good retail demand for small lots, for domestic purposes, at quoted rates. Picton and Sydney are selling at $7 75@8 00 ₱ ton by the cargo. English cannel is selling at $17 00@18 00 ₱ ton for large and small lots. Cumberland is selling at $7 00 ₱ ton; Pennsylvania and Westmoreland gas at $8 00 ₱ ton, delivered in Philadelphia. Anthracite is in steady demand for consumption, at firmer prices. We quote sales in large and small lots, by retail, at $7 00@7 50 ₱ ton, cash.

WOOL.

NEW YORK.

From the Economist, we learn that the market is quiet and the trade demoralized; prices have now been giving way ever since the clip, and previous to that it was generally considered that wool was at the bottom; but it has gone down since then full five cents per lb, and buyers still expect that it will go lower; yet all this fall in the price of wool has been of no benefit to the manufacturers, for about in proportion as wool has fallen off woolens have declined, for every one is agreed that wool is now lower than at any point it has reached for a number of years, and the purchaser of woolens says even wool is the lowest commodity on the market, then woolens ought to be the same, and I will not buy unless I can have them at the same ratio as wool, and he also argues if wool is falling so much woolens will also decline, and I must wait till they have got to the bottom before I purchase, and so the manufacturer holds out at the wool market expecting that it will be lower, and the dealers keep reducing the price to tempt the buyer, and the very fact that they are so reducing the price is a preventative rather than an inducement to buy; the same with goods—they are put down to tempt buyers, but they hold off waiting for a further reduction.

It is this course that has so demoralized business. It is a little strange that this state of things should continue with wool and woolens, and other dry goods; it is well understood that under the existing state of things, wool and all other kinds of goods are very low indeed, and yet nobody is anxious to buy; grain, corn and butter, and beef are very high, everybody says they will and must come down; but speculators in these things are not deterred, but keep buying, and as a consequence, prices keep up and even advance. Cotton has been falling off in price for the past few weeks, and instead, as many would have supposed, that business would have increased and manufacturers have been benefitted, the reverse has been the consequence. Trade is bad and unremunerative, and manufacturers talk of stopping their mills, so that however much we may desire a reduction in price of all kinds of goods, yet the very process of reduction renders trade in a great measure stagnant.

The better grades of wool will move more freely in a short time; the mills are now making preparations for spring goods, and in a few weeks quite a number will have all their machinery in spring styles.

We hear of no factories that are running less time or less machinery. A number who, a year ago, were running short time or only part machinery, are at present fully employed; and as there were not a large amount of spring styles carried over compared with a year ago, it is altogether likely that they will run full through the winter. A large number of the mills are close sold up on heavy weights, so that the condition of trade and its prospects are not by any means deplorable. The closing up of the fall production leaves the market bare of medium and coarse wool. These grades, however, will not be in great demand before spring, and the supply will in all probability be found rather scarce at that time.

Extra fleeces are now being more looked after as the season for fine spring approaches, and manufacturers now find the necessity of attending more to the strength of staple than they have done the past few months. XX and Picklock are scarce—that is, good XX. There is large amount of wool called XX upon the market which is little better than a fair X, and a large amount styled X and above, with the above taken out. Domestic wools, and everything that looks like combing, are getting scarce. This has been sought after to some very great extent and Canada combing has been neglected, which is at the present scarce in the States, so that as the demand is light prices rule low.

Pulled wools are far from active at present, and it is anticipated that of this class of wool there will be a very large supply; in the Spring many are expecting that on account of the low price of wool there will be a great mortality among sheep during the winter; this heretofore has been the rule, that when wool fell in price farmers abandoned sheep in bad dry and there never were such inducements as at present for their doing so now. The price of every other agricultural product is very high; wool is very low; at other times when they have neglected wool raising, other kinds of produce have been comparatively low. Many times the farmer has preferred corn at 25c ₱ bushel to wool at 25c ₱ lb, and they would be very likely to prefer corn at $1 00 a bushel to wool at 40c.

At the close there was rather more inquiry, and report says that quite a number of the larger manufacturers were looking around, with some buying; the sales indicate considerable more move. The sales aggregate about 220,000 lbs fleece ranging from 38@55c including 15,000 lbs State at 43c; 10,000 lbs do 43c; 5,000 lbs Michigan, 46c; 5,000 Wisconsin, 41½c; 10,000 lbs Ohio, 47c; 3,000 lbs Michigan, 45c; 25,000 lbs Ohio private terms; 3,000 lbs Illinois, 5,000 lbs fine Silesia fleece, and 5,000 lbs Texas, on private terms; 15,000 lbs Illinois, 46c; 10,000 lbs Ohio 50c; 14,000 lbs medium Texas, 21@25c; 2,500 lbs Michigan, 45c; 3,000 lbs Ohio private terms; 17,000 lbs California, 25,000 lbs Bury, do on private terms; 10,000 lbs fall clip, 23c; 3,000 lbs tub 45c; 30 bags all clip California average 25c; 55,000 lbs Texas, 23@26c; 10,000 lbs low do at 18@22½c; 30 bags shearling pulled and 3,000 lbs do, both 23c; 50,000 lbs buckings pulled, 46c; 3,000 lbs super pulled 37c; 2,500 lbs tub 46c; 12,000 lbs super and lamb pulled, 31@38c, including mixed western; 20,000 lbs Ohio fleece 45@52c; 35 bales tub, 47c; 18,000 lbs Ohio and Pennsylvania fleece, 50,000 lbs Ohio and State do, 20,000 lbs pulled, 1,500 bales Valparaiso, 100 do Cape, and 100 do Donskoi, on private terms.

RIVER TELEGRAMS.

Special River Dispatches to the Pittsburgh Commercial.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 28—5 P. M.

The weather—It has been raining all day, and is still raining. The river is unchanged, with a fair prospect for a rise.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.

GREENSBORO, Oct. 28—5 P. M.

River at this point two feet in the channel and at a stand, with a mild rain since eleven o'clock last night.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.

BROWNSVILLE, Oct. 28—5 P. M.

The river has not yet risen any here; there is about three feet of water in the channel. It has been raining all day and still continues.

Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, October 28.—The river is rising slowly, with twenty-nine inches in the canal by the marks.

THE RIVER AND MATTERS ALONG THE WHARF.—Trade on the landing was not very active. From present appearances the good time expected is near at hand. The weather looks favorable for a rise—the rain, which commenced in the morning, continued all day, with every indication of a continuance. Dispatches from Oil City and other points up the Allegheny, report warm rains at Olean, Salamanca and Jamestown.

On the upper landing, above the suspension bridge, the Brownsville and Geneva packets have all the business they can manage, and notwithstanding the low stage of water they make their trips regularly. These lines deserves great credit for the trouble they take in accomodating the people of the valley; the hours of departure being 8 A. M. and 5 P. M. daily.

W. CARTER, clerk of the J. D. Palmer, died at New Orleans lately.

SUNK A BARGE—The steamer Thompson sunk a barge at Cypress Bend on her last New Orleans trip.

CAPTAIN CALHOUN announces the Delaware for Nashville on first rise.

THE Cincinnati Commercial is received every evening at seven and a half o'clock by Pittock, Fifth street, opposite the Postoffice.

ABE MCPIKE (a near relative of "Mollie") is the name of a new boat building for the old Keokuk Packet Company.

PASSING AWAY.—Captain Abe. Meyer, late of the Morgan line from Mobile to New Orleans, died at the former place lately.

MAIL CONTRACT.—A. S. Mansfield, of New Orleans, has taken the contract to carry the river mail between that point and Vicksburg.

FROM Memphis we learn that Messrs. Kindige & Co. are about to negotiate for the St. Patrick. If the sale is consummated Captain Tom Berry will take command of her in the Vicksburg trade.

THE Cincinnati Commercial says: The old veteran Capt. Dick Calhoun, of the Delaware, is busily engaged in refitting his packet, at Pittsburgh, in order to place her in the Nashville trade.

A LOUISVILLE DISPATCH says: Farmers complain of the great scarcity of water. In many places they are hauling it two or three miles for culinary purposes. Weather clear and cool. There was a very heavy frost this morning.

FROM the following it would appear that the rain was general:

FRANKLIN, PA.—Raining.
WHEELING, W. VA.—Raining.
TITHOLE, PA.—Raining.

THE Muskingum river has been placed in fine navigable order. The locks from Marietta to Zanesville have undergone thorough and complete repairs. The favorite steamer Julia No. 2, Captain Coulson, will resume her trips weekly to that port on the first rise of water, leaving this port every Tuesday at 4 P. M. Her advertisement will be found in our river column.

THE St. Louis Republican says, The Northern Line Packet Company have closed a contract with Alf. Cutting, Esq., the well known boat builder, of Metropolis, for a new wharfboat, similar in plan to those in use by the A. & M. S. Co., and the Memphis packet. The new boat will be 300 feet in length, 40 feet beam, 5 feet depth of hold, and will be ready for the spring business. The name of the builder is a sufficient guarantee that it will be a No. 1 job.

A ST. LOUIS paper says: Delay continues to overtake boats in every direction, from low water, and from fogs, which have recently been dense and protracted. The water slowly recedes. The era of barges give no signs of drawing to an early close. Although the Mississippi Barge Co. has of late given very little evidence of vitality, the Atlantic line finds barges indispensable, and while the stern-wheeler Starlight has gone with her two barges, the W. R. Arthur is to be cut in two, and lengthened twenty-five feet and widened ten.

MEMPHIS.—We learn that the people along the Arkansas are much alarmed about the yellow fever at this point, and that the passengers on the Pilgrim told some terrible tales. One of them, a Colonel, whose name we have, but withhold for the present, reported five hundred cases a day, and fifty or sixty deaths. Our mortuary report, however, only shows an average of from three to four interments daily. Just as the battle of Shiloh opened, a youth fled to Corinth, and then telegraphed home that every member of his company was either killed or wounded, but he alone escaped.

SENSIBLE.—The Hon. H. T. Blow, in his discourse on the formal inauguration of the St. Louis Board of Trade, in referring to river improvements, said:

In my humble opinion, you will best discharge this duty by contending at once for the rapid improvement of all our navigable streams, the thorough protection of life and property in our Territories, the restoration of trade in this great valley through its old and legitimate channels, and a change in all legislation which prevents a development of our greatest and most enduring sources of wealth and independence.

A CAIRO correspondent has the following: The Columbus packet, General Anderson, has taken advantage of the falling off in travel to go into the dry-docks to repair a small hole knocked in her hull some weeks ago by the fluke of an anchor near Columbus. She has been running ever since with a bulkhead filled with mud, built around the hole, making it perfectly safe but adding considerable weight. The anchor which did the damage was one of those which secured the monster chain (each link of which weighed thirteen pounds), which General Pillow stretched across the Mississippi to stop the approach of our gunboats to Columbus, Kentucky.

TWO MEN FOUND IN THE RIVER CLINGING TO A SNAG.—On the morning of the 22d inst. the steamer City of Cairo, bound from Memphis to St. Louis, picked up two men who were holding to a snag in the middle of the river, and had been there for fifteen hours. Their names are Edward Cooper and Henry Dennison. They belonged to a party of four men from Laporte, Indiana, and were coming up the river in a sail boat, which capsized near Devil's Island. Harry Martin reached the island in safety, and Wm. Carter is missing. They had four chests of tools and four trunks, which were lost by the capsizing of the sail boat. The two men who were rescued by the City of Cairo were taken to Evans's Landing, Captain Riley generously making no charge for fare. We learn these facts from Mr. White, clerk of the steamer, who says the two men were well nigh exhausted by their long vigil upon the snag, and were delighted at the hospitable treatment received on board the boat.

AUCTION SALES.

SMITHSON, PALMER & CO., 55 and 57 Fifth st.

DESIRABLE RESIDENCES AND SITES FOR COUNTRY HOMES, AT EDGEWOOD STATION, AT AUCTION.

On THURSDAY, October 31st, at 2 o'clock P. M., on the premises, will be sold the following described Lots of Ground, adjoining properties of John Grazier, Esq., adjoining properties of John S. Cole and J. Swisshelm, Esqs., Hon. Hampton and heirs of Hon. Wm. Wilkins, at Edgewood Station, on line of Pennsylvania Railroad, near Wilkinsburg.

One lot containing one acre, fronting on Pennsylvania avenue (on Railroad), enclosed with neat picket fence, and within 200 yards of station house, on which is erected the residence of John Grazier, Esq., a two-storied Frame Dwelling of 7 rooms, neatly papered and painted throughout, having front, side and rear porches.

One lot on Franklin avenue, containing 4 acres and 18 perches, on which is erected a comfortable and convenient Gothic Frame House of 13 rooms; marble mantels in parlor; papered, painted and finished in neat style.

Two vacant Lots of one acre each, fronting 464 feet on Pennsylvania avenue and Railroad, and on Franklin avenue 195 feet, and 7 one acre Lots on Race and Vine streets, which will be sold entire or in lots to suit purchasers.

The situation of this property is a delightful one, Edgeworth being one of the most flourishing villages on line of railroad; all the Accommodation trains stop at the station, and a fine new station House is to be erected early next spring. There are schools, churches, &c., within easy access, and residents can have all the pleasures and comforts of country life.

Terms on improved property, one-half cash; unimproved one-third cash; balance in five equal annual payments, with interest, secured by bond and mortgage.

Plans can be seen at office of
SMITHSON, PALMER & CO., Auct.,
55 and 57 Fifth street.

VALUABLE CITY PROPERTY.
SITES FOR PRIVATE RESIDENCES ON RIDGE STREET, ALLEGHENY CITY,
AT AUCTION.

On SATURDAY, November 2d, at 2 o'clock P. M., on the premises, will be sold the very valuable Vacant Lot of Ground, fronting 300 feet on Ridge street, extending along Tremont street 200 feet, and adjoining properties of Alfred Patterson and A. McFarland, Esqs. The situation of this property is one of the finest in Allegheny city, the surounding improvements being of such a character as to render a home in this neighborhood very desirable for business men engaged in either city, being accessible by cars on lines of Rebecca street and Western Avenue Passenger Railways. If not disposed of entire will be subdivided into Four Lots of 75 feet front each on Ridge street.

Terms—One-third cash; balance in one and two years with interest, secured by bond and mortgage.
SMITHSON, PALMER & CO., Aucts.,
55 and 57 Fifth street.

EVERGREEN HAMLET.
BEAUTIFUL RESIDENCE AND GROUNDS, AT AUCTION.

On WEDNESDAY EVENING, October 30th, at 8 o'clock, at Masonic Hall Auction Rooms, 55 and 57 Fifth street, will be sold the former Residence and Grounds of R. E. SELLERS, Esq., at Evergreen Hamlet, only a short drive from Bennett's Station, on Western Pennsylvania Railroad, and adjoining properties of J. J. Gillespie, George H. Holtzman, Esqs, Mrs W. A. Shinn and Colonel Lehman.

This property comprises about 1½ Acres of Ground, having a slightly elevated surface, under very neat ornamental cultivation, with an abundance of shade and choice fruit trees, small fruits, shrubbery, &c.

The Dwelling is a commodious and elegantly finished two storied Frame Cottage, 40 feet front (with whole length piazza) by 30 feet in depth, containing 10 rooms, with saloon parlor. There is a children's play house, outbuildings, cistern under wash-house, pump at door; school house convenient. This neighborhood is certainly a very desirable one, and for a country home no finer locality could be selected.

Terms—One-half cash, balance in one year, with interest, secured by bond and mortgage. Lithographic plan at office of
SMITHSON, PALMER & Co., Auct'rs,
55 and 57 Fifth street.
